[illegible] the gang he attributes bank [illegible] with losses totaling more than [illegible]000, and the looting of [illegible] police stations at Auburn and [illegible] for arms and ammunition. Several of the convicts face murder charges for the slaying of Sheriff [illegible] Sarber at Lima, O., during [illegible] from the jail there of John Dillinger, one of their leaders.

Leach described the formation of the gang as follows:

Started by Five

Early last summer five convicts all on parole from the prison decided to organize and specialize in bank robbery. Dillinger, released after the minimum of a 10-21 year term for robbery, took the lead. Associates were Homer Van Meter, Harry Copeland, Sam Goldstein and Clifford Mohler.

Mohler, life termer, gained his parole, prison officials learned, by [illegible]king shellac in the prison paint [illegible] to induce symptoms of a disease.

These five plotted and carried [illegible] robberies in 60 days in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Kentucky. Following the robbery of a bank at Gravel Switch, Ky., Mohler was arrested in East Chicago, Ind., and Goldstein at Gary, and both were returned to prison.

Dillinger was arrested at Dayton, O. Letters, charts and correspondence showed plans for aiding in the prison break. Dillinger was turned over to Lima authorities for trial for a Bluffton, O., bank robbery.

Guns Smuggled

The long-plotted break was carried out Sept. 26, with the aid of guns smuggled to Walter Dietrich, convict in the prison shirt factory. Dietrich escaped along with Harry Pierpont, Charles Makley, Edward Shouse, John Hamilton, James Jenkins, James Clark, Russell Clark, John Burns and Joseph Fox. They kidnaped Sheriff Charles Neel of Harrison county as they fled.

Neel was released three days later near Gary, and the same day James Clark was captured at Hammond.

Legionnaires Help Guard Ohio Jail

By The Associated Press

WAPAKONETA, O., Oct. 26—A band of vigilantes is being formed under American Legion Commander Clifford Wright, ready for instant action at the Auglaize county jail, where Fred Pierpont is held as a suspect in a bank robbery at St. Mary's, O., Oct. 3.

Ten legionnaires, heavily armed, patrol the jail vicinity as authorities strengthened their defenses in the event of a jail raid by a bank robbery gang, to which they attribute the slaying of Allen county Sheriff [illegible] Sarber.

The suspect's brother, Harry Pierpont, has been identified as a member of the band which killed Sarber as they liberated John Dillinger, wanted in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana in connection with numerous bank robberies in [illegible] state.

CHICAGO GETS SIGHT OF GRAF

Giant Zeppelin Makes Brief Visit To Exposition City Early Today.

COMMANDER LEAVES SHIP

Dr. Eckener To View Fair As Dirigible Starts Return Trip To Akron.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 26—After a stop of less than half an hour in Chicago this morning the Graf Zeppelin again took to the air while its veteran commander, Dr. Hugo Eckener remained behind, to receive the acclaim of Chicago and the World's fair.

The ship headed toward Lake Michigan and then returned to circle the airport before starting south on what apparently was another cruise over the World's fair grounds.

Dr. Eckener conversed briefly with personal friends at the airport before he started for Chicago accompanied by a motorcycle escort.

Soldiers Handle Ship

While the 776-foot dirigible was moored at the Curtis-Wright-Reynolds airport at suburban Glenview, several passengers disembarked and seven boarded it for the return trip to Akron.

A large ground crew, including 250 regular army soldiers from Camp Whistler at the World's fair grounds, under command of Major E. M. Landrum, took the 776-foot air-liner in tow, to permit Dr. Eckener to land for a round of festivities in Chicago and at A Century of Progress.

A stiff wind was blowing from the south at an altitude of 2,000 feet when the ship loomed up from the haze to the south of the airport, but the velocity at the ground was only 14 miles an hour, and no difficulty was experienced in getting down to earth.

The ship, which left Akron, O., at 11:35 o'clock (Marion time) last night with 24 passengers aboard for a trip to Milwaukee, and Chicago, and then back to Akron, was first sighted just before dawn over Lake Michigan above whose waters

MARION POLITICAL ACTIVITIES SPEED UP

Both Parties Intensify Efforts With Election 12 Days Away.

Political organizations increased their campaign activities today with the Nov. 7 election only 12 days away.

Plans for a series of Democratic ward meetings, to begin Friday night, were announced this morning. The Republican campaign organizations are now in the midst of a series of meetings of this nature.

First of the series of Democratic meetings will be held at the Mark Street school Friday night at 8 in charge of Jesse Warrick. A speaker, not yet named, and Democratic candidates for city offices will take part in the program. Other meetings in the series will be held next week.

C. OF C. VICTORY DINNER FRIDAY

Event To Mark Close of Four Day Drive for 300 Members.

COLUMBUS MAN TO SPEAK

Meeting at Hotel Harding Will Be Thrown Open To Public.

Announcement this morning of the program for a victory dinner in Hotel Harding Friday night to wind up a four-day membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce found workers redoubling their efforts to reach a goal of 300 members before the drive ends.

Encouraged by reports that the half-way mark had been passed yesterday and that new members were being added hourly this morning, drive leaders predicted that the membership of the Chamber will pass the 300 mark. Final reports are not expected before the middle of next week.

James A. Maddox of Columbus, a community worker active in the civic center development in that city and a well-known speaker on community work, will speak at the victory dinner Friday night on community cooperation, it was announced today.

In an effort to stimulate civic interest and awaken in Marion residents a new sense of responsibility for the business and social welfare of the city, the Chamber has opened the Friday night meeting to the public, W. D. Brown, manager, announced. All persons wishing to cooperate in the program of activity now being planned by the Chamber are invited to attend the meeting, which will begin at 6:30 with a dinner, Mr. Brown said. He urged persons planning to attend to telephone their reservations to him.

Plans for reorganizing the Chamber will be announced in detail at the victory dinner, Mr. Brown added.

CONVICTS AGAIN ON WAY TO EXECUTION

Supreme Court Refuses To Halt Death of Mansfield Murderers.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26—Twice halted in their march toward death in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary, Chester Probaski, 25, of Cleveland, and Merrell E. Chandler, 22, Columbus Negro, again are moving along that path. The Ohio supreme court rejected their motions for an appeal and set Nov. 24 as the execution date.

They had carried their appeals directly from the common pleas court of Richland county where they were convicted of the murder of Frank Hanger, a Mansfield reformatory guard, in an escape attempt.

Meantime, Probaski awaits the decision of the Richland county common pleas court on a motion for a new trial, the granting of which would stay his execution. Chandler, who pleaded guilty and signed an affidavit claiming sole blame for the killing, can look only to the governor for further stay.

SARRAUT AGREES TO FORM NEW MINISTRY

Firm Stand Against Inflation To Be Keynote of French Cabinet.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Oct. 26—Senator Albert Sarraut, called "the father of the French colonial empire," decided definitely today to accept the premiership of France.

After obtaining enthusiastic endorsement of his program to balance the budget at a conference with radical socialist supporters, he expected to see President Lebrun early in the afternoon and immediately organize a cabinet.

M. Sarraut was tendered the office yesterday over a half dozen others mentioned to succeed Edouard Daladier who resigned with his cabinet after a vote of no confidence in the chamber of deputies.

A firm stand for gold against inflation and devalorization formed the cardinal point in the program drawn up by M. Saraut.

Columbus Woman Heads Lutheran Mission Group

Officers Are Elected As Two-Day State Meeting Comes To Close Here.

Mrs. G. C. Gast of Columbus was elected president of the Ohio District of the Women's Missionary Federation of the American Lutheran church this afternoon in a closing session of the district's two-day convention in the Emanuel church on South Prospect street.

The convention was to act on resolutions and to select next year's meeting place in the final session.

Other new officers are Mrs. K. A. Mueller of Lima, vice president, Miss Marie Albers of Sidney, secretary, Mrs. Henry Pleasant of Dayton, treasurer, Miss Emma Keller of Grove City, thankoffering chairman, Mrs. C. F. Mittler of Dayton, life and in memoriam chairman, Mrs. Dan Knies of Columbus, India lace department chairman, Mrs. Edward Pfeiffer of Columbus, Junior Mission chairman, and Mrs. George Claus of Akron, missionary education chairman.

More than 300 women are here for the meeting.

Conferences This Morning

Departmental conferences were a feature of the session this morning. The women went into five groups to discuss the India lace work which the Lutheran church is carrying on through its missionary societies, the junior work of the church, missionary education, thank-offerings and the life and in memoriam department.

The meeting opened at 9 with a hymn which was followed by devotions by Mrs. J. J. Baumgartner of Columbus and a discussion of "Evangelization" by Rev. Henry E Koch of Detroit. Rev. Harold Yochum of Fremont conducted the closing service.

This afternoon the women were to bring their meeting to a close with a business session of departmental conference reports and summaries, report of the resolutions committee, and the presentation of officers. Rev. James W. Schillinger, pastor of Emanuel church, was to close the convention.

Interesting displays of the work of the federation, arranged in the church basement, drew the attention of the women between sessions. On exhibition were the lovely laces made by the women of India from thread sent by the federation, the textbooks for the mission study and the work of the junior mission groups.

At the opening session yesterday afternoon the principal speakers

Icy Blasts Sweep Over Wide Area

Marionites Shiver as City Shares in First Real Cold Snap.

Wintry blasts that brought death in many parts of the country, were felt in Marion last night as the thermometer skidded down to 27, the lowest mark of the season. The federal bureau weatherman has forecast rain and warmer weather tonight, with another cold snap Friday.

Fourteen persons lost their lives over the country, according to an Associated Press dispatch. Seven lumbermen were swept to their doom by the swollen waters of the Big Salmon river, in the Pacific northwest when they were trapped on a sandbar while driving lumber for a paper company. Seven others, a man, his wife, their three children and two 14-year-old girls were drowned in the Susquehanna river near Afton, N. Y., when their automobile rolled down an embankment into the river.

The cold belt extended from Canada down into Dixie over the eastern half of the United States. From six to 12 inches of snow clogged highways and paralyzed communication in the New York Adirondacks. There were snow flurries in Chicago and Cleveland, while to the north a record breaking snow covered Duluth, Minn.

In Marion yesterday, the high reading of the day was 47 degrees, 25 degrees lower than the maximum reading on the same day a year ago. The minimum a year ago was 45 degrees.

U.S. Moves To Free Miners From Industrial Bondage

BEER CONCERN LOSES LICENSE

Marion Distributing Co. Inc. Forced To Suspend; Hearing Set for Nov. 9.

MANAGER IN CITY JAIL

Faces Charge of Issuing Checks Without Sufficient Funds in Bank.

The Marion Distributing Co. Inc., a wholesale beer agency at [illegible] North State street, was suspended from operation yesterday afternoon by agents of the Ohio Liquor Control commission assisted by Police Chief William E. Marks.

The company, serving 15 counties as a branch of the City Beverage and Distributing Co. of Columbus, will remain closed, officials said, until the liquor commission investigates the alleged illegal transfer of the company's beer license. A hearing has been set for Nov. 9 before the commission, The Associated Press said today.

About the same time of the company's suspension John H. Hall, 47, of 594 East Center street, was taken to police headquarters to face two charges of issuing checks with insufficient funds.

Two Charges Filed

The check charges were filed by Oscar Jenner, proprietor of the Modern Tavern restaurant, and Roy Smith, manager and vice president of the Consumers Brewing Co. of Newark, O. Smith's affadavit charges that Hall gave the company a check for $201 on Oct. 14, drawn on the Marion County bank, without funds in the bank to cover the check. Jenner's charge is similar, except the amount involved is $10 on a check allegedly given him by Hall on Oct. 13. This check, Jenner's affidavit states, also was drawn on the Marion County bank.

Hall was still held in the city prison at noon today, pending disposition of the charges. He had not posted bond.

The hearing before the commission, however, is to deal only with the license transfer.

Henry H. Morae of Stark county was one of the liquor commission agents who suspended the company's activities yesterday afternoon.

The agents contend that in buying the company several weeks ago from J. J. Curl, Frank L. Murray and James B. Latt, who had incorporated it, Hall should have recorded the transfer of the beer license.

Must Be Recorded

The agents said each time a beer license passes from one holder to another it must be recorded with the liquor control commission along with a fee.

Attorney Frank Wiedemann, who is representing Hall in the hearing before the commission, said Hall understood that recording the transfer would not be necessary since the change in ownership of the company's name or activities were not changed.

Suspension of the company is the first known action to have been taken here in connection with the beer business since the beverage was legalized.

Hall, a former real estate salesman and promoter in Columbus, announced on Oct. 5 he was taking over the branch agency here. He established headquarters in the Amicon building on Mill street east of State street and contracted to purchase eight trucks to handle the distribution.

COURT DECLINES TO PREVENT DRY VOTE

Prohibitionists' Injunction Request Loses, Pennsylvania To Decide Nov. 7.

PRICE FIXING PLAN OPPOSED

UNIFORM COST PROPOSED

Marion Concern Sees Danger of Loss If Present Plan Is Approved.

Protests against ice cream price fixing were to be voiced at a meeting in Columbus today of district No. 1 of the Ohio Ice Cream Manufacturers' association by C. H. Isaly of Marion, manager and S. D. Isaly of Youngstown, president, of the Isaly Dairy Co.

Ice cream manufacturers from nine counties were expected to attend the meeting today for the purpose of agreeing on uniform ice cream prices. These were to be used with price agreements in other Ohio districts to make up a state code for ice cream industry for submission to the federal government.

As ice cream manufacturers of this district prepared to agree on schedules which probably will call for 50 cents a quart and 25 cents a pint for hand-packed ice cream and which will reduce to two and one-half ounces the maximum size of a five-cent ice cream cone, C. H. Isaly announced here this morning he would oppose the action.

Mr. Isaly asserted that establishment of these prices would place ice cream above the reach of many persons who now could afford it, and that the accompanying decrease in consumption would cause the consumer, producer and manufacturer to lose by the move.

He added that the movement toward price fixing in different fields of trade is losing favor with federal government officials, and that price fixing provisions were being removed from codes in numerous lines of retail trade.

Clarence Howe of the Howe Ice Cream Co., also is attending the meeting in Columbus. Counties to be represented at the meeting are Marion, Crawford, Delaware, Franklin, Knox, Licking, Madison, Morrow, Union and Wyandot.

18-CENT BOOST ORDERED

NRA Works on Powerful Organization To Prevent Profiteering.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—The administration sought to give increased impetus to its price boosting program today by increasing the price it will pay for newly mined gold by 18 cents an ounce over yesterday, the figure set being $31.54.

It was asserted at the White House later that the increase did not mean necessarily that there would be a daily increase.

Indications were voiced that so long as the American price keeps ahead of foreign market levels, a point may be reached when it will not be felt necessary to increase the quotation.

Purchases of the metal will continue on a daily basis.

Yesterday, when this Roosevelt policy was inaugurated, the domestic price was fixed at $31.36 against a London figure of $31.09.

Dollar Down

At exchange rate of $4.75, today's London quotation was $31.06.

While this was a decrease of three cents as compared with yesterday, there was actualy an increase in the London gold price in British currency.

It jumped from 130 shillings, one pence, to 130 shillings, 9½ pence.

Variations in foreign exchange accounted for the decrease in the dollar value.

Today's price was determined by the committee appointed by the President to attend to this detail.

As on yesterday, Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC, and Henry Morgenthau Jr., representing the President, called upon acting Secretary Dean Acheson at his office in the treasury.

They received the latest figures from London on gold and foreign exchange quotations. Quickly arriving at their decision, they dispatched copies of a formal statement to newspapermen.

It said:

"The Reconstruction Finance corporation will accept subscriptions for its issue of notes maturing Feb. 1, 1934, payable only in newly mined gold, that is, gold recovered from natural deposits in the United States and any territory subject to its jurisdiction, at the rate of $31.54 per ounce of fine gold under regulations for consignment, deposit and tender of gold and delivery of obligations established by the treasury department and Reconstruction Finance corporation."

Notes Offered

While the RFC offered notes in exchange for the gold today, yesterday's price announcement was accompanied by word that the gold would be paid for in RFC debentures, unsecured bonds.

Meanwhile, treasury experts worked out a system whereby the sellers of the gold could discount

GETS JAIL TERM IN BATTERY THEFT

Charged with having stolen a storage battery from an Erie railroad freight car, Frank Edwards, 34, of Cleveland, was sentenced to 30 days in the Columbus workhouse yesterday afternoon by Municipal Judge William R. Martin.

The battery being shipped to Kenton, railroad officials said, was stolen by Edwards when he noticed the door of the car open. The officials said he then traded the battery for four pints of whisky. Loss of the battery was not discovered until the car reached Kenton, officials said.

Edwards was charged with petit larceny. Besides the 30-day sentence, he also was fined the costs in the case, which he will serve out in the workhouse. He is a transient, officials said.

were three missionaries from India, Rev. and Mrs. Andrew Wilch and Miss Lillie Prange, a missionary nurse, all of whom are on furlough. Miss Prange spoke of the work which is being done in the hospital founded by the federation.

Rev. Wilch spoke at length on the need for trained missionaries in the field. In many sections of India, he said, the natives readily accept the story of Christ and His marvelous teachings, but have not yet come to the point of acknowledging Him as the Supreme Being.

Five of the 28 societies of the federation's honor roll which is on display in the basement, are in the vicinity of Marion. They are Good Hope church of Bucyrus, the Galion church, Trinity at Marysville, St. John's at New Washington and St. Paul's at Prospect. To be on the honor roll each member in a society must have 25 points, earned by reading five books recommended by the federation for reading during the year.

Mrs. G. C. Sheatsley of Columbus pronounced the benediction. Mrs. George Turner and Mrs. J. W. Semmler sang a duet.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY HELD AT AGOSTA

Special to The Star

AGOSTA, Oct. 26—Members of the Epworth League of the Agosta M. E. church entertained with a progressive Hallowe'en party last night. The affair started at the home of Misses Helen and Marjorie Powelson where costume awards were presented Miss Inez Everett, Ellsworth and Robert Drake. Following a program at the Powelson home the members progressed to the John Elsele home where refreshments in keeping with the Hallowe'en season were served and contests and games enjoyed. Refreshments also were served at the Harry Savage home and the final program was given at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Witmer. Plans were made to take part in the annual Epworth League booth festival at Kenton, Nov. 11.

GIRLS OF CHURCH CLASS ENTERTAINED

The girls of Mrs. William M. Newman's Sunday school class of the First Reformed church held a masquerade party last night at her home at 525 Oak street.

Mrs. Robert W. Hucke and son Robert and Miss Helen Steinman were guests. Games and stunts in spirit with the season were enjoyed. Mrs. Hucke assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

DEATH OATH TAKEN BY BANK ROBBERS

[illegible] They [illegible] 15 [illegible].

One of the greatest concentrations of law enforcement agencies in Indiana's history was formed today to protect the state from the [illegible].

Governor Paul V. McNutt was ready to place the National Guard at the call of state police. Federal operatives lent their assistance, the American Legion prepared to form "a shot-gun army" to blockade roads and citizens' vigilance committees sprang into being.

Two small bank robberies yesterday at Filmore and Monon followed similar holdups on the two preceding days at Greencastle and South Bend.

CHICAGO GETS SIGHT OF GRAF ZEPPELIN

It had been cruising leisurely throughout the early morning hours. Later it was seen moving over the Century of Progress exposition grounds, the commander apparently desiring an early morning peek at the big exposition.

The Graf will return to the Akron airdock late this afternoon to prepare for the return flight to her home port, Friedrichshafen, Germany, by way of Seville, Spain. The start of the homeward jorney is tentatively set for Saturday morning.

Graff Passes Over Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 26—[illegible]ing lazily in a clear sky, the Graf Zeppelin, bound for Akron, O., passed over Detroit at [illegible] p. m. (Marion time) today [illegible] turned south here.

The ship flew low over the [illegible] airport several miles from Detroit, then swung along the outskirts of Detroit and headed directly [illegible] the downtown district, floating majestically, her silver sides gleaming in the sun.

The great ship drifted, with its motors idle, in a stiff breeze over the city's business section, so low that operators in the control [illegible] could be seen. Then, in a burst of power, she swung about in a complete circle of the city, with a single wasp-like airplane describing circles about her, and headed south apparently planning to pass over Monroe, Mich., and Toledo.

REVIVAL CONTINUES.

Revival services will continue at the Grace Holiness tabernacle, [illegible] Herman street, it was announced today. Rev. John H. Berridge will continue to preach each night at 7:30. Mrs. Addie LeChanen who recently closed a revival service in Indiana with her husband, Rev. [illegible] LeChanen, and Miss Betty H[illegible] will sing each night.

Violets Bloom in Fall as Flowers Reverse Season

Violets long heralded as a harbinger of spring may now add the distinction of ranking with the last flowers of summer and autumn according to George Henderson Jr. of the Prospect pike. As proof of his belief the young man this week presented his mother with a large bouquet of violets which he picked along the Scioto river near Newmans.

The violet patch is not a new one to the young man who has gathered many bouquets in the vicinity in the spring but this is the first time they have put in an appearance in the fall. Whether the flowers get mixed up in their seasons or whether it is their way of helping to lift folks out of the depression the young man doesn't know, but anyway the bouquet is a prize decoration in the Henderson household.

SLEEPING SICKNESS OR PARDON?

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, Miss. A desperate game of chance, with their pardon a possible stake, is deciding the fate of 10 convicts who submitted themselves for tests to discover the cause of sleeping sickness.

The cards of the game were running their way at the end of the first week. It was then that examination disclosed no symptoms of the disease in the men who had allowed themselves to be bitten repeatedly by mosquitoes which previously had bitten monkeys inoculated with the virus of encephalitis (sleeping sickness).

The main objective is to determine whether mosquitoes are carriers of the disease.

And should ill fate befall the convicts the same misfortune might be shared by Dr. W. P. McDavid, surgeon of the Parchman state prison farm, who, with the sanction of Gov. Sennett Conner and health authorities, also submitted to the test.

The 10 men selected from the 10 who volunteered have been making the best of their isolation, passing the time playing cards and other games.

Dr. McDavid, who does not believe that mosquitoes transmit the disease, doubts that the men will feel any ill effects.

Governor Conner did not promise immediate release for the volunteers, in case they do not become afflicted. He merely said "all those who go through with the tests will be rewarded with executive clemency." But associates believe full pardons for all would be given.

ATHENS, O.—Denying that college men are the poorest fed group in the world, these two Ohio University students are preparing the food for 29 undergraduates in the university's cooperative house on the campus.

Robert Selover, senior, of Oberlin, chef for the score of men, has spent several vacations cooking for restaurants and country clubs. The fact that not a single man moved out of the house testifies to the quality of pies, cakes, and puddings Selover prepares.

Aiding the "chef" in his work is John Stockham of Portsmouth, [illegible] custodian of the dishes. Stockham is a son [illegible] a member [illegible] team. The men [illegible] from the university [illegible] of their food [illegible] council [illegible] and [illegible] dormitory.

ILLNESS IS FATAL TO MARION WOMAN

Mrs. Margaret Court, 90, Dies After Illness of Six Weeks.

Mrs. Margaret Court, 90, a lifelong resident of Marion county died last night at 11:25 at her home at 265 Uhler avenue. She had been ill of a complication of diseases for the last six weeks.

Surviving Mrs. Court are two daughters, Mrs. Elmina Johnston of 265 Uhler avenue and Mrs. Mary J. Bowman of near Mt. Gilead, eight grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. She was the last member of a family of eight children. Three sons and her husband, W. S. Court, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Court was born March 22, 1843, in Pleasant township to Jonathan and Mary Redd Hoffman, natives of Pennsylvania. Her marriage took place April 7, 1862, in Marion county.

Mrs. Court was a member of the United Brethren church.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Schaffner-Queen funeral home on East Center street with Rev. Lawrence A. Wood of Trinity Baptist church in charge. Burial will be made in the Marion cemetery. The body may be viewed at the home until Saturday at 10:30 a. m. and at the funeral home from 11 a. m. until service time.

10 CANDIDATES GET GRANGE DEGREE

Ten candidates were given the third and fourth degrees at a meeting of Montgomery grange Tuesday at DeCliff. The grange enrolled 40 new members this year, and in recognition of having had a class of 25 at one time Deputy Master E. A. Williams presented the grange an award. Talks were given by Roy Anderson and Homer Barnhouse.

Plans were discussed for the Pomona grange meeting Nov. 4 at the Montgomery hall, and for a public Hallowe'en party Saturday night at the hall. The annual election of officers will be conducted at a meeting Nov. 14.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR GETS BRIDGE JOB

W. C. Bailey of Marion was awarded contract for constructing a joint county bridge over Paw-Paw run by Hardin and Marion county commissioners in a joint session in Kenton Tuesday. Bailey's bid, the lowest of seven received by the joint boards, was $1,390.03. The estimated cost of the bridge was $1,675.

Other bids received follow: C. E. Gillespie of LaRue, $1,419.17; G. B. Day of Marion, $1,451.53; A. G. Weber of Dunkirk, $1,495.85; Anstine & Co. of Kenton, $1,490; Marion Engineering & Construction Co., $1,504.25; William & Hamilton of LaRue, $1,425.

The bridge will be located on the Hardin-Marion county line, a short distance north of federal route 30 [illegible]

"SPIKE" TELLS THE SENATOR!

Edward L. "Spike" O'Donnell (left), Chicago "public enemy," was refused permission to testify before a senate sub-committee hearing in Chicago on rackets, so he cornered the committee chairman, Senator Royal S. Copeland, to "give him some advice on how to direct the younger element out of the pathways of crime." (Associated Press photo).

NEXT MEETING OF GRANGE CHANGED

The next meeting of Progressive grange will be held Nov. 9 instead of the regular date Nov. 7 on account of election, it was announced at the meeting Tuesday at the grange hall southeast of Marion. The program hour included readings by W. T. Owen. A game "Poison Potatoes" was enjoyed. Roll call responses were descriptions of historical places visited by the members.

A feature of the meeting Nov. 9 will be the annual election of officers.

CAROL on a CRUISE

BEAUTY CONTEST NO. 1

1—Carol is modern and Carol is clever. She knows that even on shipboard, life is a Beauty Contest. And to be the prettiest girl on board, she cares for her skin with Camay.

2—As she strolls on the sun deck she's perfectly sure that admiring glances are darting her way. And, smiling, she thinks that a lovely complexion always attracts attention and praise.

3—At luncheon the captain invites her to sit in the place of honor at his right. The others are envious. But they really should know that a girl who is pretty gets the favors in life.

4—How romantic! A moonlit night on the ocean and a handsome, devoted man at her side. Any girl with a Camay complexion gets the pick among eligible bachelors wherever she goes.

5—Girls—remember life is a Beauty Contest, on sea or land—wherever you are. So get the help that Camay gives you. And then searching glances will not disconcert you. You will win the admiration you desire.

You and your CAMAY COMPLEXION— Admired Wherever You Go!

If you want to have a good time of life—get yourself a beautiful Camay Complexion!

For you—like Carol, the girl on the cruise—are in a daily Beauty Contest. And the pretty girls—girls with Camay Complexions win admiration and praise.

Camay keeps your skin soft as rose-petals and smooth as silk. And a skin like that is sweet to the eyes of all men. So use Camay faithfully for one month—and you'll be a more attractive girl than you are today!

TRY CAMAY FREE!

If you never before have used Camay, the Soap of Beautiful Women, clip this offer and mail it, with your name and address to Procter & Gamble, Dept. CM1, Box 1801, Cincinnati, Ohio. Two cakes of the smartest looking, best feeling soap of the year will be sent you without cost.

Thereby Proving Something.

The Graf Zeppelin's visit over Ohio territory and its stopover at Akron airport proves something about this mode of air transportation that thoughtful people can not help pondering. There is full measure of the romance of scientific achievement in the sight of the great, gray ship that has traveled on schedule all the way from its base in Germany.

The Akron disaster, climax to a saddening series of accidents to airships, pulled out the fundation of confidence in this country's bid for leadership in the field of lighter-than-air transportation. Previously, the British had lost confidence. Before that the French had tried airships and abandoned them.

The Germans, first to try, are undisputed leaders. The Graf is a scarred veteran of hundreds of thousands of miles of uneventful voyaging. Soon it will be joined by another ship, larger than it, larger than the Macon—the finest craft of its kind in the world. Germany, whose aggressive tactics in the air during the World war forced development of air defense in all nations, is continuing its aggressiveness in peace time with the Graf

It has nothing in materials which other people lack. The Graf is buoyed with hydrogen, where the United States has helium, The same skill which designed it was available for the Akron and the Macon. Apparently, Germany's friendly competitors in this field have everything but a Dr. Eckener and his well trained crew. Men can't fly without ships and ships can't fly without men.

The Tax Raiser's Fate.

The French don't like taxes either. Nothing more complicated than that fact is needed to explain the overthrow of Edouard Daladier's premiership.

Daladier believed that the budget should be balanced at any cost. The taxes he proposed outdid the exorbitant schedule imposed on Americans by the last session of congress and even shaded the repudiated program which Tammany Hall tried to fasten on New York City.

Protest was prompt. From every class and interest came opposition which, when it congealed, automatically destroyed the Daladier government. The same thing would happen in the United States many times, if it were possible to dismiss governments here by a contrary vote on an issue in which confidence was at stake.

Defeat means that the budget will not be balanced. It means to many Frenchmen that the franc's precious future is in jeopardy. It will cause confusion for a period while passion runs high. Probably it will not be possible to establish another ministry with any idea of permanence for several months.

Something more important that any of these things is involved. French taxpayers have demonstrated that there are limits to their willingness to pay. Their form of government enables them to make a more direct demonstration of their resentment than is possible in the United States. In the case of the Daladier overthrow many Americans will see an advantage in the French system.

Satisfied.

Inflationists fortunate enough to have the nation's ear when they have a comment to make seemed pleased with President Roosevelt's sketchily outlined monetary policy. Senator Thomas, author of the bill which gave the President all the known powers of inflation seems almost jubilant.

"It is a program for higher prices and cheaper dollars," he says. "Managed currency means controlled inflation. [illegible] It is 100 per cent in the direction of what we have been seeking." Senator Thomas is sometimes described as a [illegible] inflationist, whatever that means.

Fortunately Mr. Roosevelt's [illegible] description of what he is going to try to do was received more mildly by that portion of the population which [illegible] know nothing about management of money. Apparently, he has accomplished [illegible] stroke in appeasing some of the more radical inflationists without scaring the wits out of others who regard these gentlemen with fearful suspicion.

Many conservative commentators with direct interest in finance are neither jubilant [illegible] nor [illegible] interested [illegible] don't understand [illegible] it seems big [illegible] has contracted [illegible] to inflation [illegible] attention to [illegible] grew what he was [illegible] exactly what it was [illegible] succeeded better [illegible] the effect of [illegible] which is the [illegible] or disapprove of it [illegible] his opinion [illegible].

D. C. Nelson.

D. C. Nelson is dead after a long and outstanding career as a Marion citizen and business man.

He had an important part in the operation of one of Marion's oldest and most successful business establishments, the Nelson & Sons jewelry store, and had much to do with earning for it the high rank which it occupied in the city's commercial affairs.

His success in business was attained not only through enterprise but with a record of fair dealing that was unblemished throughout the years and the unfailing courtesy and accommodating service which were among the Nelson firm's marks of distinction.

The pleasing and friendly personality which marked D. C. Nelson's participation in business affairs was a natural characteristic which remained with him always in social and civic life and made him an invariably likeable and popular associate. This personal charm, coupled with qualities of character far above the ordinary, gained for him public esteem that is the reward of the highest standard of citizenship.

Much of Mr. Nelson's time and attention outside his business and home life was given to religious activities. For many years he was a leader in affairs of the First Presbyterian church and to his interest and activity there can be credited much of the progress and service accomplished by that important denominational organization during the last few decades. No finer nor more fitting tribute can be paid to his memory than to say that in the work of the church and other agencies for human betterment the death of D. C. Nelson leaves a vacancy difficult to fill.

The General Subsides.

Newspaper readers are wondering what has become of General Johnson, dynamic administrator of the national recovery act. In recent days his name, which appeared three and four times a day in newspapers during the summer, has been missing.

It has been missed the more because of the vigorous phraseology that disappeared with it. No American ever burst on the scene with more meteoric dash and zip than carried the general through the initial phase of NRA. He was made-to-order for the occasion.

The initial phase of the recovery movement has passed however. Perhaps that explains the virtual disappearance of General Johnson. The setting for his act has been removed by circumstances. A new and different kind of scene is in progress.

In Washington there are rumors of his resignation to permit an administrator of different temperament to carry on the administration of industry's portion of the recovery movement. Unfortunately, it is hinted in the rumors that the general will not be permitted to end his part without hard feelings.

Critics are talking of his errors and holding him accountable for them. Skepticism of certain aspects of NRA has not been confined to the legislation; it has been directed, also, at the vigorous man who personified administration of the legislation.

General Johnson, it is hoped, will be philosophical enough to accept calmly the jeers and kicks that are the traditional reward for active service in a democracy. It was his function to start a great experiment. Nothing but a positive approach was possible. It was inevitable that feelings would be hurt and jealously guarded principles attacked.

Second-guessers see how it could have been done better. General Johnson, no matter what the final verdict of his work may be, should find comfort in the fact that none of them could have emerged from the trial a hero. Mistakes were to be expected and his total isn't a discredit to a man who attempted so much in so short a time.

Behind The News In Washington And Wall Street

BY GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Uncle Sam has long [illegible] some smart guy would come along and snitch Muscle Shoals out from under him.

This was the [illegible] that pushed over the Norris plan for government operation of the big power and nitrate plant.

Now officials are seeing bogey men all over again.

A proposal has been made to the Tennessee Valley Authority to use Muscle Shoals power for the manufacture of aluminum. A large amount of power is being sought at a very low rate.

The interests back of this project are making a twin drive on the public works administration for money to finance the aluminum manufacturing once they get the power.

The scheme is simply a good business idea with the government in the middle both ways. But the government isn't taking any chances on surface indications. It's investigating carefully.

Outside interests are responsible to some extent for this investigation. It has been whispered in official ears that it might just be possible the power trust was seeking in this way to paralyze a large amount of power that would otherwise be sold to municipalities at cheap rates.

Or again, some of the nervous outsiders [illegible] aluminum trust be trying to [illegible] this power and then [illegible] thus eliminating serious [illegible]

Those who have [illegible] up these possibilities [illegible] admit frankly they [illegible] evidence of them [illegible] to have the government meet the [illegible] with aluminum [illegible] Then the power always would be available for the use most needed.

It is a fact that [illegible] have been made [illegible] stampede Dr. Harcourt F. Morgan [illegible] of TVA, into a number of contracts.

Coal

Washington hears that the [illegible] the anthracite industry [illegible] gets around to submitting a code, a new deputy administrator for NRA will be introduced to handle it.

It is reported on good authority that General Johnson will ask Stephen Raushenbush to deal with the hard coal boys.

Raushenbush at present is director of industrial relations for Pennsylvania where all the big anthracite mines are located. Formerly he was secretary of Senator Norris committee that dipped into coal and power.

With such a background he should know the [illegible]

Baruch

Barney Baruch's sudden evaporation into thin air is giving the politically-minded choice topic for small talk these days.

You may remember how the financier came down to Washington while the President was away and installed himself in Prof. Ray Moley's office as king for a day.

The cry "unofficial President" promptly drove him back to New York. From there he sailed for Europe.

Baruch returned from abroad without so much as a ship news interview.

Then he dropped completely from the public eye until the other day when Will Rogers disclosed he was in California.

Is he dodging the increasingly acute situation in Washington? Or is it the New York mayoralty fight? Purely incidental table conversation but very active.

Notes

Since Secretary Ickes invoked his regulations fixing oil prices and controlling production, western papers in certain sections have been filled with rather uncomplimentary headlines. ... One read: "Acts of God To Continue Despite Ickes!" another said, "Mountain (apparently bursting with oil) Refuses To Obey Ickes" ... George F. Getz, Chicago coal man, just named treasurer of the Republican national committee, supported Al Smith in 1928 with a large slice of his personal funds. ... He explains politics did not enter into this ... After the Harding landslide of 1920 when Smith was defeated for governor Al entered Getz's employ and in two years the Chicagoan learned to love him like a brother.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26—Local insiders hear of a reorganization of the federal trade commission such that its own parents [illegible] know it.

Split-Up

[illegible]

[illegible] NRA [illegible]

[illegible] New [illegible] an [illegible] yet in that debate. The old-timers still think they can get somewhere.

There is some agitation to bring municipal bonds within the scope of the act. They have caused investors as much grief as any other type. But congressional opposition may be too strong.

Worry

What's worrying New York banks now is what they can do with their nice new RFC capital so as not to lose too much money on it. High grade commercial loans only pay 3% at present and the better forms of investment all yield less than the 4% the money will cost them. They could get loans that would pay them 6% but they don't want that kind.

Perhaps some RFC debentures will be offered which they could buy direct. That would make a neat circle of it. The banks would sell capital notes to the RFC in order to buy RFC obligations so the RFC can lend more money to other banks and so ad infinitum.

Failing that there are always long term governments. The banks have fought shy of long term stuff so far but the plethora of funds may make them change their tune. It's a safe guess that the government thought of this as a side line when it worked out this increased capital idea.

Objections

Not all [illegible] banks are out of the woods yet on the preferred stock proposition. Some of the national banks think they have to get permission from their stockholders before they can act. That promises to be a sweet job of salesmanship. Several large holders of bank stocks have privately expressed their intention of saying it with warehouses if they get the chance.

Berle

The banks are beginning to wonder if they backed the wrong horse when they picked brain-truster Berle to help them with their own reform plan. At the time they thought his seat was close to the throne. It isn't any more. They learn besides that Berle has rubbed a lot of congressmen the wrong way to the point where there will be stiff opposition to anything he favors.

Bruere

The well informed whisper that Henry Bruere's job as credit co-ordinator turns out to be anything but a bed of roses.

Some of the credit agencies he has been asked to co-ordinate have only the foggiest notion of how credit machinery operates. Comment runs that they are even more ignorant than the average banker. But it is understood that Bruere will be given full authority to use the mailed fist wherever necessary.

Capital

American capital has started to put on the [illegible] act in a big way since the [illegible] began to get important. Foreign capital has begun to flow out. If this continues it may cause serious dislocations in the world [illegible] market but it would make [illegible] tion much simpler.

Gold and Rabbit's Feet

If you saw [illegible] competing against each [illegible] for the feet of graveyard [illegible] running the price up to [illegible] cents a foot, you would smile.

You may smile as condescendingly when the British Empire and the United States of America bid against each other for [illegible] running the price up two [illegible] an ounce in one day.

Pleasant for those that [illegible] gold but what about taxpayers [illegible] have to supply money for all th[illegible] bidding?

Central Junior Pupils To Learn About Elections

Twenty-six pupils of Central Junior High school are up for election to four offices on Friday when the school conducts its annual voting on school officers. As in former years the election will be conducted through the ninth grade citizenship classes taught by Miss Helen Carhart and will be conducted in the same manner of the Nov. 7 election. The plan was adopted several years ago to give the pupils in citizenship a practical knowledge of election procedure.

The candidates are as follows: president, Junior Sharrock, ninth grade, Jeanne Imbody, eighth, Marion Gast, ninth, Dan Matthews, ninth, Hamilton Geat, ninth; vice president, Howard Mitton, seventh grade, Jack Hedges, ninth, Chester Cline, seventh, June Morehart, seventh, Mary Ernestine Smith, ninth; secretary, Glenna J. Wise, ninth grade, Joan Boyd, ninth, Irene Chambers, eighth, Ethel VanSchaack, seventh, Edna Marie Bargar, seventh, Audrey Miller, seventh, Wilton Pennington, seventh; treasurer, Valera Landon, seventh grade, Mary Nickels, seventh, Olen Flickinger, ninth, Margaret Hufford, eighth, Robert Thibaut, seventh, Rowena Caylor, ninth, Virginia McMorrow, seventh, Elbert Titus, seventh, Doris Teutsch, eighth.

Petitions were distributed to each home room a week ago, and all pupils were privileged to enter the race for offices provided they had 25 signatures on their petitions.

The board of elections is composed of Jean Metz, chairman, Mildred Zachman, Clara Jane Gibson and Clinton Lawrence, all members of the citizenship classes. Ward officials also members of the classes have been named to function at the polls Friday morning. They are captain, judge, and two recorders for each ward, named in the following order: Ward 1, Howard McCoy, Arthur Gute, Ione Postle, Lucylle Ballenger; Ward 2, Junior Fields, Paul Barret, Betty Morris, Naomi Cray; Ward 3, Mae Granger, Raymond Mayfield, Carol Heffelfinger, Betty Lusch; Ward 4, Robert Beam, Kenneth Bricker, Miriam Bryant, Eleanor Gandert; Ward 5, Harold Coy, Lawrence Weiser, Jane Uncapher, Mary Lou Sifritt.

The school boy patrol will maintain order at the polls which will be open from 8 to 8:30 a. m.

P.-T.A. MEMBERSHIP GOAL PLACED AT 525

Increase in Enrollment Already Indicated in Drive Under Way Here.

A membership of 525 is the goal set by members of the Parent-Teacher groups of Marion in the campaign which is now under way it was announced today by Mrs. J. E. Lewis, membership chairman of the Parent-Teacher council.

Unofficial reports show appreciable increases in membership in practically all the 15 groups in the city and it is expected the quota, which is set by the state organization, will be reached this fall.

The associations, which are the outgrowth of community clubs formed in schools throughout the city, carry on an organized program of health and welfare work in the schools. An outstanding project inaugurated and supported by the groups is the pre-school clinics each year. Programs and social activities make up the year's entertainment for the school year. Of the 20 cent dues for the year, five cents is sent to the national organization and 15 cents remains in the state to carry on the work.

KNOX DUNLOP HEARD IN MARION RECITAL

Vocal and Instrumental Numbers Presented in Program at Hotel Harding.

A program of vocal and instrumental numbers was presented in the public recital given by Knox Dunlop of the faculty of the Toledo Conservatory of Music and a group of musicians from the conservatory last night in the ballroom at Hotel Harding. A fair-sized audience enjoyed the program.

Vocal numbers included an aria and a group of solos by Mr. Dunlop, bass-baritone, who has been active in music circles in Marion for several years. His accompaniments were played by C. L. Jaynes, also of the faculty at the conservatory and a former Marion musician.

Appearing on the program with Mr. Dunlop were Miss Wilma Throm and Miss Dorothy Bell, pianists and Miss Margaret Hull, soprano. Accompaniments were played by Mr. Jaynes and Atto Sturmer of Toledo.

U. S. AGAIN BOOSTS GOLD PRICE RATE

the debentures and yet receive the full announced price for their gold.

Essentially there is little difference between notes and debentures.

Treasury and RFC officials still are busy drawing up regulations for delivery of the gold. These had been promised by officials for yesterday, together with an executive order by President Roosevelt. The latter was abandoned, however, and the regulations, it was said, would be ready for publication some time today.

The avowed administration aim is to raise commodity prices, especially for producers; but simultaneously at Presidential behest the NRA has in the making the most elaborate system yet attempted to reprotect the consumer against profiteering.

Boards Planned

It plans soon to set up community boards to which persons who believe they are being overcharged can complain.

Regulations will be laid down as to the manner in which such complaints are to be investigated, settled locally or referred up to regional authorities and, if necessary, to Washington.

Until this time the consumer angle has been submerged to an extent in the mass of urgent NRA work.

A freshly effected reorganization changes NRA into an agency primarily for administration. The compliance network headed by Hugh S. Johnson himself will have general supervision of keeping industries in line on fair practices, consumer treatment and labor question, but the protection of the buying population is expected to involve an organization developed as thoroughly as that of the national labor board which arbitrates strikes and threats of strikes in industries under codes.

Besides acting on complaints of citizens, NRA intends to have machinery for price control on its own initiative.

RECEIVES LETTERS FROM AIR LINER

Marion Collectors Get Mail Carried on Graf.

Two Marion collectors, E. H. Bondley of Monroe street and Dr. F. A. Stengel of South State street received letters this morning which were carried on the Graf Zeppelin.

One of Mr. Bondley's letters was posted at Rio de Janeiro and both Mr. Bondley and Dr. Stengel received envelopes postmarked Miami, Fla. The envelopes are marked with special cachets to identify them as having been carried by the Graf. The Rio de Janeiro letter carries a Brazilian air mail stamp and commemorative stamps and the Miami letters bear the regular U. S. Air Mail stamp.

Mr. Bondley also has a letter coming from Friedrichshafen, Germany. When it is received it will complete the cycle of stops made by the Graf. The big German zeppelin carried the letter from Friedrichshafen to Rio de Janeiro. From Rio it will come by boat to Miami and overland from Miami to Marion.

MILK POOL TO JOIN STRIKE OF FARMERS

Militant Wisconsin Group Agrees To Begin Activities Oct. 31.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 26—The power of the militant Wisconsin cooperative milk pool, veteran of two state strikes resulting in widespread violence, today was turned to the support of the National Farmers Holiday association non-marketing campaign.

Strike activity of the pool as a unit was set to begin Oct. 31 but its 16,000 to 20,000 members were urged to aid the holiday group wherever advisable in the interim.

Meanwhile disorders were increasing in northern Wisconsin. At Chippewa Falls about 75 pickets invaded the Model dairy yesterday and dumped 25 cases of bottled milk. Police routed them and arrested two, who were later released on the district attorney's orders. Another band dumped 3,500 pounds of milk near Wisconsin Rapids.

At Athens pickets dumped 400 pounds of butter from the Marathon county creamery church and scattered ashes on it. They poured kerosene into milk vats of two other plants.

More than 100 plants were closed. Managers of others said they would close today or Friday.

The New Mexico Holiday association, claiming 14,000 members, was instructed to join the strike yesterday.

Wheat Shipments Virtually Cease

By The Associated Press

BISMARK, N. D., Oct. 26—Wheat shipments from North Dakota virtually had ceased today.

Railroads in the state, willing to move the grain despite Governor William Langer's embargo effective last Thursday, said very little was offered for shipment yesterday.

Governor Langer proclaimed the embargo in an effort to raise the price of wheat for the producer, and instructed every sheriff in the state to notify all concerned that wheat must not be shipped out of the state until further notice.

HARDING HIGH BAND SPONSORS FOOTBALL PICTURE AT PALACE

The picture is said to excel "The Spirit of Notre Dame," and "The All American," considered the finest football pictures ever turned out.

Robert Young and Leila Hyams are the featured players in addition to a strong supporting cast and many famous football stars, including Ernie Nevers and Erny Pinckert.

The high school band will conduct a pep meeting and play a short concert between shows Friday night. A goal of 1,250 tickets has been set by the director, T. R. Evans, and as a reward for the work of the members in selling tickets he has promised them a "feed" some time in the near future. Last year the band members sold more than 1,200 tickets for the picture "The All American," which it sponsored.

PROBE REVEALS GRAFT IN CUBA

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—Senate investigations today characterized as "graft conditions" a report from the files of the Chase National bank that $18,000,000 had been spent "unnecessarily" on the Cuban capitol building, construction of which was partly financed by loans from the bank.

After reading the report from Chase files telling of the expenditures, Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the stock market committee, asked Shepard Morgan, Chase vice president if "these graft conditions" had been known five months previously when the bank sold $40,000,000 in Cuban bonds to the public.

"I have no idea," Morgan replied. "But only 35 per cent of the public works expenditures were financed from the obligations advanced by us."

CITY GETS $123,528 FROM RELIEF FUND

Amount Needed for Remainder of Year Estimated at $47,218.

The city of Marion received $123,528 in federal relief funds in the first nine months of this year and is expected to receive $47,218 more by Dec. 31, according to figures compiled by The Associated Press from records of the state relief commission in Columbus.

Of a total of $45,424 allotted to Bucyrus for the year the report shows that $21,564 has already been received in that community.

A total of $22,141,672 was distributed in the state in the first nine months of the year in 36 counties receiving state aid and another $3,210,000 in cities in 52 counties in which the counties receive no state aid.

Commission officials said another $12,000,000 is estimated as the probable total needed in the 36 counties for the last three months of the year and $1,000,000 more in the non-state aid counties.

In Allen county, the amount received in Lima and Delphos in the first nine months totaled $125,835, with a total of $167,145 expected for the year. Figures were not available for the rest of the county.

Cuyahoga county, with 39,000 families on the relief lists, led in the total received, $10,066,419, while it is expected to draw another $3,800,000 in the last three months.

Union Moves To Protect City's Print Shop Workers

Steps to protect the interests of employes of Marion job printing plants were taken last night by the Marion Central Labor union when a resolution was adopted protesting against sub-letting of public printing to out-of-town concerns. The resolution stated that a recent contract had been let to a local company and then sublet by the firm to an out-of-town printing concern. The union's action urged that this work be kept in Marion to employ local labor.

Another resolution adopted last night protested the circulation here of newspapers and journals which are printed out of town but purport to be Maroin publications but have no local connection except advertising. Publishers of these papers, the resolution said, urged Marion residents to patronize local merchants but themselves failed to live up to this policy by having their printing work done out of the city.

Support of the union to the old age pension, which will be an election measure Nov. 7, was voted last night, along with a provision to supply watchers at the polls on election day. Fred T. Eaton, chairman of the old age pension committee, gave a short talk on the pension movement.

A committee was appointed to raise funds in the union to be contributed to the Citizens' Utility committee's drive to raise a survey fund here in connection with the movement for public ownership of utilities. The committee consists of Jess A. Wattrick, Frank C. Robinson, Loren J. Myers and A. J. Owens.

A report was given that Henry E. Oberting, secretary of the Columbus Journeymen Barbers union has been named one of three members of the state board of barber examiners.

DELEGATES WILL GO TO P.-T. A. MEETING

The Marion City and County Teachers' associations will be represented at the two-day convention of the Central Ohio Teachers' association Friday and Saturday in Dayton.

Mrs. Floy Wideman and Miss Martha Smallwood will represent the city association. About seven of the county schools will be closed Friday and the superintendents and teachers of the schools which will not be dismissed probably will attend the Saturday session.

The Marion city schools will not be dismissed.

* * *

THE first mail in the morning brought a proposal in due form from Robert Arbuthnot. Patsy Ann glowed and blushed over it as if it had been the most ardent of love-letters. She read it aloud in snatches, with agitated and enthusiastic comments. It concluded:

> I have, for some time, been [illegible] the question of matrimony. I hope you know me well enough to be sure that I sh[illegible] [illegible] such a step [illegible] the most [illegible] consideration. Before taking what I regard as an irrevocable step [illegible] yesterday. I gather that you would not consider a [illegible] relationship, such as exists between yourself and [illegible] [illegible] therefore ask whether you could entertain the idea of accepting me as your husband.

Patsy broke off and dabbed her eyes.

"He makes it sound so solemn—doesn't he? I think it's a wonderful letter. Don't you?"

Patsy dabbed her eyes again.

"I don't know how to answer it. I can't write a beautiful letter like that."

"I shouldn't try," said Caroline. "That's Robert's sort of letter. You write your own sort, and perhaps he'll sit down at the other end and wonder how you did it."

"Do you think so? Do you think I could just say that he's made me very happy—would that do?"

"Beautifully," said Caroline.

As she said it, the telephone bell began to ring. A scarlet Patsy caught up the receiver.

"Caroline—if it's him—what shall I say?"

Then as Caroline, laughing and shaking her head, was about to run out of the room, there was a change in voice and manner. A puzzled look came over Patsy's face, her color receded, and her voice took on a tone of disappointment.

"Oh . . . Yes, she's here. Who shall I say? . . . Oh . . . Very well, I'll call her."

She turned from the instrument, which was fastened to the wall at the foot of the stair.

"Caroline—some one wants you. She won't give any name."

Caroline took the receiver with some impatience. It was so stupid of people not to give their names. If you were cut off, you never knew who had been calling you. She simply hated that.

There came to her along the wire an almost inaudible voice.

"Is that Caroline Leigh?"

"Who is speaking?"

"Is that Caroline Leigh?"

"Yes. Who is speaking?"

"Will you come and see me? I want to see you very badly."

"But who are you? I didn't hear—"

"I didn't say. I want to see you,—about—Jim." There was a faint desperate catch in the voice before the name came out.

* * *

"Are you—no, you're not—Nesta?"

"Who is Nesta? No, never mind. I'm Susie. You know now, don't you? Will you come and see me?"

Caroline's heart leaped. Susie Van Berg wanted to see her. Why? Of all things in the world, she wanted most to see Susie Van Berg. She wanted it so much that she was afraid to say yes. Could she go—might she go? Was there any possible hurt to Jim in her going? She couldn't see any.

"Are you there? Will you come?"

"Yes," said Caroline, and had the feeling, like Robert, that she was taking an irrevocable step.

"How will you come?" said Susie Van Berg. "I would send the car—but then the servants would talk—"

"They'll do that, anyhow," said Caroline with the ghost of a laugh. "But you needn't bother—I've got my own little car. When shall I come?"

The voice said, "At once."

Caroline's thoughts moved rapidly. She said:

"Not if you don't want to make talk. It isn't as if I knew you very well. It would be better if I came in the afternoon—anyone can come in the afternoon."

"What time?" The voice fluttered.

"Between 5 and 6," said Caroline. "Will that do?"

The voice said, "Yes." The click of the receiver put a full stop to the word.

Susie Van Berg turned from the telephone, clutching with both hands at the pale blue satin wrap she was wearing. She had locked both doors before she rang up Caroline Leigh—the bedroom door, and the door of the big dressing-room which she had turned into a sitting-room for herself.

The communicating door stood open between the two rooms. The telephone was in the sitting-room. She had flung up the receiver because she had heard someone try the handle of the bedroom door.

She stood for a moment, listening in a strained position, the light of the grey rainy morning falling cold upon her pallor. She had the type of looks which needs the sun. Her hair was so pale as to be almost silver, her eyes a forget-me-not blue, her skin as white as privet, with no more than a faint rose to tinge the cheeks and deepen to the color of pink hawthorn in the lips.

She stood there listening, and heard the handle tried again. In an instant she had stepped out of her slippers and, picking them up, crossed the floor and gone through the communicating door, moving without a sound. The bedroom blinds were down, and the curtains drawn. The only light came from the sitting room.

Susie Van Berg slipped into the turned-down bed and, leaning over the edge, set her slippers down beneath it. Then, pulling the clothes about her, she reached out her hand and rang the bell.

The Marry-go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND

LOVERS—AND OTHERS

The man who thinks that a permanent wave and a facial are sheer luxuries deserves to be married to the woman who does not regard beer, golf clubs and seats at the football games as necessities.

* * *

Many a man goes to his grave still wondering whether he "won" the woman he married, or merely gave in to her, through sheer masculine weakness.

* * *

The trouble with most love-affairs and marriages, like the trouble with most whisky and wines as that they are too "green," and never get a chance to mellow in these rushing days.

* * *

The "gay deceiver" might come back into fervor again, along with corsets and puffed sleeves, except that it takes up too much of a busy modern girl's time and energy to help deceive him himself.

* * *

You are not really "in love" as long as you can even imagine that another man's kisses might be thrilling "just for a change."

* * *

A "perfect lady" is one who uses a bridge lamp or an ash-tray instead of a frying pan or a rolling-pin to force home the logic of an argument with her husband.

* * *

A woman will voluntarily confess secrets to her masseuse or her hairdresser that she wouldn't tell in her prayers—much less admit to her lawyer.

* * *

It has been discovered that the average man's brain is heavier than the average woman's—which is probably why it moves so slowly toward the altar that a girl gets all fagged out waiting for it to catch up.

* * *

The "healing" power of psychoanalysis is simply that it gives a woman a chance to sit and talk about herself, for hours to a man who hasn't got his nose buried in the newspaper, and doesn't look as though he were waiting for a truck to go by.—(Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BLUE RIBBON "CROWNING GLORY"

Given in Marriage

BY ADELE GARRISON

Back at the farm house Madge's father gets an urgent summons to see Harry Underwood and a "stranger" in the library!

MY father never shows astonishment at anything, but at my exclamation that Lee Chow was the man who had shot Dicky, and that Hugh knew it, he drew the car to the side of the road, stopped it, and turned to me.

"Has Hugh said anything to you which would warrant you in believing that?" he asked, and I wondered if I only imagined the sternness which seemed to be in his voice.

"Not a word," I answered. "But after the queer way in which Lee Chow behaved, and his vague threats, I could not help seeing that you and Hugh were taking certain precautions, and that you two, with Harry Underwood, were not surprised when Dicky came home wounded."

"I see," he said slowly. "My compliments to you, my darling. Your deductions are shrewd and correct. There is nothing to be gained by keeping you in ignorance of what we know and suspect. If you had no suspicion of the truth, I should advocate keeping you in ignorance."

"No, no," I murmured, and my father put his hand over my twisting fingers.

"I shall tell you everything I know before you sleep," he said. "Will that suffice you?"

"Of course," I said docilely.

"Then"—he took his hands from mine and started the car again—"we will get home as quickly as possible."

The Children Are Safe

"Why?" I could not keep back the question which was choking me. "Are you afraid that Lee Chow will try to hurt the children?"

"No, no!" He almost shouted the denial. "The children are perfectly safe from him. Hugh is certain of that, he says. Now you must wait until we get to the farm before I tell you anything more."

He sent the car forward at a rate even faster than his usual speed, and my brain again began to send out little tendrils of deduction.

He was in a tearing hurry to get home, for some reason which he had not seen fit to explain to me, yet he was not afraid of any harm coming to the children. He never has deceived me, and I know that he had spoken only the truth when he said Hugh had declared them to be in no danger whatever.

Dicky was safe in the hospital, with the added precaution of Hugh's presence near him.

Then why?

It was with a little thrill of adventure, in which terror was only a minor factor, that I realized what my father's insistence upon getting home meant. He must suddenly have concluded, as he sat by the side of the road, that I myself was in danger from Lee Chow, and he was hastening to get me to the shelter and safety of the farm.

Neither of us spoke again as the car, under my father's skillful guidance, raced along the road and through the gate. When we drew up to veranda steps Jim's solid, dependable figure rose from the lowest step where he had been sitting.

The Stranger

"Mr. Underwood said you were to please come to the library as soon as you came in," he said. "He told me you were to watch your step when you come into the room."

I could sense my father's sudden alertness although not a muscle of his face or body changed.

"Thank you, Jim," he said. "Did Mr. Underwood tell you what you were to do after you had given us this message?"

"Yes, sir; he said to come along with you, and wait outside the library door in case I was needed."

The words had an oddly sinister sound and I waited breathle[illegible] my father's next questi[illegible]

"I d[illegible] body come in and Katie says everybody in the house has gone to bed. But I may be mistook but—I thought I heard somebody else's voice talking to Mr. Underwood."

My father pounced upon the admission as if he were an accomplished mouser.

"Did you know the voice, Jim?" he asked.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Saves Big Dollars! No Cooking!

Millions of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a purer, more effective remedy. They use a recipe which costs only one-third as much as ready-made medicine, but which really has no equal for breaking up obstinate coughs.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and add granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and one cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and makes the most effective remedy that money could buy. Keeps perfectly, and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, clearing the air passages, and soothing away the inflammation, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Big Ten Officials Threaten To De-Emphasize Football

CLAMOR FOR OUSTING OF COACHES ROUSES IRE OF UNIVERSITIES

"Enthusiasm All Right" Leaders Assert, But "It's Going Too Far."

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Unless the alumni and students ease up in their annual campaign of "firing coaches" Big Ten football may be drastically de-emphasized.

The presidents and faculty representatives of the Big Ten universities are disgusted with the "get a new coach" movement, The Associated Press was reliably informed today, and will take concerted action to dampen the enthusiasm for the sport unless there is a letup.

"It's all right to have enthusiasm for football," one of the Big Ten leaders said, "but to let it run away with you is something else again. Every fall some coach is on the fire of the alumni and students just because his team happens to get beaten or some alumnus or student gets all 'burned' up because his team loses and the next thing we know the president of the university is roused out of bed to deny a rumor that the coach is going to get fired.

Getting Tired of It

"We're all getting tired of it. If it doesn't stop or ease up a bit all we can do is to deflate the game's importance. After all, you know, football is just a sport, not a college education. The president of every university wants a winning football team just as much as the most excited freshman. They are interested in the game and, through counsel, know when it's time to change coaches."

Today with Big Ten football enjoying its greatest year since 1927, from a financial standpoint, at least one coach, Sam Willaman of Ohio State, is on the "fire." Rumblings also were reported at Wisconsin while at Notre Dame, outside the conference but a close ally, Heartly "Hunk" Anderson was rumored to be on his way out.

Although L. W. St. John, athletic director at Ohio State, expressed confidence in Coach Willaman and his coaching staff, it was hinted that a legislative investigation would be made of the Buckeye athletic department. State representative Grant P. Ward, writing in the Ohio State Journal, called the Ohio state athletic department a "closed corporation with the control beautifully centralized and potected." Ward formerly was an assistant coach, under Dr. John Wilce.

Spears on the Pan

Coach "Doc" Spears at Wisconsin is in the midst of a disappointing season and alienated the affections and support of several newspapermen by a squabble with a newspaper photographer during the Illinois-Wisconsin game.

In direct contrast is Ossie Solem of Iowa. He's sitting on top the world right now with an undefeated team. The Hawkeye supporters aren't expecting too much, either. Some say they don't care much what happens now as Ossie's boys managed to eke out a 7 to 0 defeat of Northwestern and crush Wisconsin 26 to 7.

NEW YORK DRUBS WASHINGTON PROS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26 — The New York Giants swamped the Washington Passers, last night, 32 to 7, with Harry Newman, former Michigan All-American starring for the New Yorkers.

Newman scored two of the Giants' touchdowns, both on end runs. Jimmy Bankhead, formerly of Texas, scored the lone touchdown for the Washington pros on a 60-yard runback of a punt.

WRESTLING RESULTS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND—Leo Numa, Seattle, won over Jack Washburn, Chicago, 15:21 (Washburn disqualified for having metal in knee protectors).

CHICAGO—Jim McMillen, 225, Chicago, threw Joe Stecher, 225, Dodge, Nebr., 45:27.

PHILADELPHIA — Sandor Szabo, 195, New York, won over Charley Strack, [illegible], Spring Valley, N. Y. 21:00 (Strack disqualified).

SIOUX CITY, Ia.—Gus Sonnenberg, 210, Boston, defeated Ed McCorkin, [illegible], Canada, two straight falls.

TROJAN STAR TELLS HOW HE DROPPED 13 POUNDS IN PRACTICE

Worked Ruse To Fool Coach Into Giving Him a Trial.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—It took a year, but finally the truth concerning Irvine Warburton's loss of 13 pounds in weight the first day of football practice in 1932 is out.

"Scooter" Warburton, University of Southern California's 145-pound quarterback, can safely tell about it now that he is the first string alternate on the Trojan team this year.

"I had always heard that Coach Howard Jones wouldn't consider a quarterback unless he was big," said Scooter, "so I waited until no one was looking and after tipping the scales at 148 wrote down 161 after my name.

"When I weighed in again after practice, Bill Hunter, the athletic director, was there, and I couldn't do anything about it. He looked at me kind of funny, but never said anything.

"I didn't say anything either. We just let it go at that."

The tow-headed San Diego youth, whose wild runs were important factors in the defeat of Notre Dame and Pittsburgh last year admits that he became rather obese after working in the motion picture studios the past summer.

Hunter was on hand when he came in this season at a legitimate 153, but it didn't last long. Scooter is back to 145, the weight at which he won the state quarter-mile title several years ago and the same weight at which he ran on the Trojan relay team last spring.

So, explains Warburton, the added weight won't cut his speed down much. He is a junior this season, which Trojan opponents of next year probably will regret very much.

Despite their proximity to Russia Finland and the Baltic States obtain most of their petroleum and its products from the United States.

Basketball Begins To Steal Into Spotlight

Football To Hold Stage Another Month but Numerous Teams, Including Harding, Already Busy.

Were [illegible] of shoe leather [illegible] is heard daily and [illegible] for almost another month basketball is already creeping into the sports arena and within another two weeks [illegible] demand at least [illegible] sports [illegible] are that Marion [illegible] ing [illegible] another banner [illegible] wood [illegible] of more [illegible] 1933-24 campaign.

Principal [illegible] Marion will [illegible] the Harding High Presidents. There will be however, plenty of other teams to share the spotlight. St. Mary parochial school has reorganized after a lay-off of a couple of years and is busy arranging a schedule. The Marion Business college will support a boys' and girls' team. The Y-Indus club the city's leading independent amateur organization is back in the field, the Marion county scholastic and the Marion county Sunday school leagues are both awaiting the opening whistle. The Marion city Sunday school circuits have done little about organizing yet but will get around to it within a short time now. By the time the season is in full swing there are expected to be around 75 teams cavorting on the hardwood in the city and county.

Boyher at Helm

With Dewey Bohyer again at the helm, Harding High's Presidents are working out in the Harding gym in preparation for the defense of the championship of the North Central Ohio league. The Red and Black combine earned a half interest in the championship last winter, sharing the crown with Ashland.

Something like 70 aspirants turned out when Bohyer issued his first call recently and more are still coming. It being impossible to handle a squad of such proportions Bohyer is gradually eliminating those who do not appear to have the stuff for N. C. O. competition. The Harding workouts will continue for about three weeks in the school gymnasium after which they will be transferred to the Steam [illegible] gym Harding's home court.

Bohyer is facing plenty of difficulty as he sets about to construct his team this season. Of the team which sped through to an excellent record last season, he has but two members back in uniform. Maury Whitcum, a regular guard, and Johnny Vestal, a forward, are the only returning lettermen. Vestal is working out now but Whitcum will not report until the close of the football campaign. This leaves Bohyer with the gigantic task of rebuilding his entire team.

Reserves Will Help

The situation is not quite as dark as it might seem at first glance. The N. C. O. league practice of playing both varsity and reserve schedules has provided Bohyer with some material which may be the answer to his prayers. While he has but two varsity lettermen back, he has a number of reserves coming up who may fill the bill in first class fashion. They will lack experience in first class fashion. They will lack experience in varsity competition but their reserve training will at least help to overcome this deficiency.

Among the reserves of last year who will seek varsity posts this season are Harry Winters, Jimmy Woods, John Pritchard, Dick Crow, George Mason, Hubert Goerlich, Ernest Owens, Dwight Ruby, Don Creasap, Harold Smithson, John Canterbury, Glenn Obenour, Jimmy Lewis, Junior Danner and Virgil [illegible]. Of this lot several will exceed the six feet mark in height, notably Smithson and Ruby, who tower skyward at least six feet three inches.

The Harding schedule has not been completed yet but the uncompleted tentative list of foes includes two new opponents, Dayton Chaminade and Bexley. Both teams will appear in Marion. The Dayton game's date is not certain.

The present schedule:

[illegible] Kenton at Kenton.
[illegible] 15 Bexley at Marion.
[illegible] 20 Mansfield at Mansfield.
[illegible] Galion at Galion.
[illegible] Bucyrus at Marion.
[illegible] Ashland at Marion.
[illegible] 26 Shelby at Shelby.
[illegible] 2 Mansfield at Marion.
[illegible] Galion at Marion.
[illegible] 16 Bucyrus at Bucyrus.
[illegible] Shelby at Marion.
[illegible] 3 Ashland at Ashland.

Woman Coaches Columbus Boys' Football Team

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., [illegible] days a week a group of [illegible] meet with Mrs. [illegible] Lambert.

There's Sunday school [illegible] day for one.

And there are football practices two afternoons weekly for the others.

Sunday school teacher and football coach—that's Mrs. Lambert, the widow of Dr. Fonsa A. Lambert, who was chairman of the codifying committee of the national football rules. She often helped him with the transcription of the rules. She was a part of the councils that spun football rulings about their [illegible]. She has a technical insight into the game.

This year she began teaching a Sunday school class of boys not yet in their teens.

There were four in the class. "Not enough" she decided for a football team—or a Sunday school class.

But the class filled up when the youngsters learned there would be football practices for them.

She's out there on the field, the coach and all the officials in one.

Her boys lost the first game 21 to 0. But they improved, losing the second only 12 to 0. More improvement and the defeat was only by a 6-0 score.

"It's surprising the native ability they have," Mrs. Lambert says.

REFORMATORY WILL BATTLE MT. VERNON

Mansfield Eleven Anticipates Close Scrap Against Merchants Friday Night.

Special to The Star

MANSFIELD, Oct. 26.—The Reformatory football team will make its third public appearance of the year when it meets the strong Mt. Vernon Merchants under the lights at Blue Goose Field, East Mansfield, Friday at 8 p. m.

A close game is anticipated by followers of the Reformatory eleven. Since the opening of the season the Reformatory team has made long strides toward winning ways. They held the Ashland Collegians to a 0-0 game, who in turn played a scoreless tie with the Mt. Vernon outfit.

Coach Allarding of the Reformatory has been sending his charges through daily workouts and reports that his squad is looking better than at any time this year.

Football fans who are anxious to see the Reformatory team play are advised to see this game as it may be the last for the 1933 season. This caution is suggested as Reformatory officials have received many inquiries concerning future games.

BILLY EVANS THINKS CLEVELAND INDIANS ARE FAIR BALL CLUB

General Manager Believes One or Two Veterans Would Result in Flag Contender.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26 — Billy Evans, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, for six years thinks the Indians have "the best pitching staff in the majors, a great outfield, a fine young catcher—"

"And a fair infield," he remarked on the occasion of his reengagement yesterday as general manager.

President Alva Bradley announced that the new agreement was for an indefinite period and was "perfectly satisfactory" to both Evans and himself.

No salary terms were mentioned, but an unconfirmed report had it that Evans accepted a drastic salary reduction—possibly 50 per cent—from the $30,000 he received under the old contract.

Evans, who thinks the team has "great potentialities," said he believed it might be a pennant winner if the infield is strengthened "by the addition of a couple of veteran players to study such youngsters as Knickerbocker and Hale."

The club's decision to leave the municipal stadium and return to league park as its home grounds "will make the team 25 per cent more efficient because of the effect upon its morale," Evans said. "The wide open spaces of the stadium seemed to kill the confidence of our best players."

HEAVY SCHEDULE OF GAMES BILLED FOR SEABOARD SATURDAY

Army-Yale Conflict Tops Brilliant Array of Eastern Clashes.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The idea of an eastern football conference which has been discussed in "fanning" sessions for a good many years lends a little enchantment to a survey of this week's eastern grid program, which already is good enough to satisfy most fans. Within the confines of an imaginary eastern "Big Ten," composed of Army, Navy, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth, Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Brown come nearly half of the outstanding games of the section Saturday.

These 10 colleges, natural rivals and each playing at least three games against others of the group, offers such major struggles as Yale-Army, Harvard-Dartmouth and Penn-Navy, Brown vs Holy Cross, Columbia vs Penn State and Princeton's intersectional meeting with Washington and Lee.

The Yale-Army clash already is one of the week's biggest games as both teams are undefeated. The Cadets are rated as possible contenders for national honors.

The midwest, which has demonstrated the possibilities of conference competition for a good many years, has another big battle within its Big Ten to follow last week's Michigan-Ohio State clash. Iowa's Hawkeyes, which look like an outstanding threat to Michigan's title hopes, face the tough young Minnesota team. Minnesota appears to be a tough opponent for any team, especially after last week's triumph over Pittsburgh while Iowa has beaten Northwestern and Wisconsin.

Michigan's aspirations appear undangered by Saturday's clash with Chicago. Ohio State and Northwestern, both out of the race for the present, may put on a great struggle as both are out to regain some lost prestige. The remaining conference clash is Wisconsin vs Purdue, the latter tied but unbeaten.

WHICH IS DIZZIER?

Paul Dean Following in Footsteps of Older Brother.

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 26—Baseball fans who love nothing better than eccentricities in their heroes were ready today to acclaim Paul Dean as "Dizzy the younger."

Ever since it became known Paul would join the Cardinal pitching staff, the fans have wondered whether he carried any of the eccentricities of his brother, Jerome Herman. They suspected they had the answer, in part at least, today.

The Cardinal office disclosed Paul recently departed for Oklahoma without the formality of checking out of his hotel here.

The Globe-Democrat says Dizzy, who recently threatened to hold out for a $15,000 salary, has signed a 1934 contract. Sam Breadon, Cardinal president, refused to discuss the matter.

Cards and Bears Agree To Battle "Fair" for Axe

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY, Calif.—Added zest will be given victory in this year's annual "Big Game" between University of California and Stanford by the decision of the Stanford student body to put up as a trophy the axe over which the two institutions have warred for 34 years.

This rustic implement was first used by Stanford in 1899 to illustrate its famous axe yell, being employed to decapitate an effigy of a California sympathizer. It was taken by force from the hands of Stanford rooters in April of that year and for 21 years was kept securely hidden in Berkeley, except when brought out at the annual football rally to irk their rivals down the peninsula.

In 1930, under the guise of being motion picture operators for a newsreel 21 Stanford students succeeded in recapturing it and rushing it to Palo Alto in the supposed motion picture truck.

There it has since reposed in a bank vault until as a gesture of good will it was mounted on a mahogany base and by agreement with California designated as a trophy to be held each year by the school winning the annual football game.

Many bloody noses, bruises and torn clothes resulted from the numerous clashes that broke out between the two universities in efforts to gain possession of the axe in past years. Armored cars, tear gas bombs and numerous weapons of attack were used.

TEMPEST SWIRLS AS OHIO PREPARES FOR NORTHWESTERN TILT

Foes Continue To Clamor for Willaman Ouster from Buckeye Post.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26.—While tempests swirl about Coach Sam Willaman with denunciation of his defense, the Scarlet and Gray gridders today continued work toward Saturday's homecoming game with Northwestern's Wildcats.

In the four years Willaman has been coach, succeeding Dr. John Wilce, his teams have won [illegible] 10 and tied 5.

Last Saturday's 13-0 defeat at the hands of Michigan brought the anvil chorus to a new high with one of the loudest hammer wielders being Grant P. Ward, Franklin county member of the Ohio house of representatives and a former assistant coach at Ohio State.

Ward, who also writes for a [illegible] has been clamoring for two years about Willaman and in one of his most recent signed stories hinted at possible intervention by the legislature by comparing the Ohio situation to one at Wisconsin.

"It took a legislative investigation to smash the athletic department setup and get rid of the coach. They also fired the athletic director," Ward commented on the Wisconsin situation of two years ago.

CARRY EAST'S ALL-AMERICA HOPES

Montgomery and Danowski Both Brilliant Stars

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK.—The eastern seaboard, short of backfielders of all-America caliber in recent seasons, is preparing to offer a couple of versatile young men for consideration of the judges when the present campaign nears its end.

Both Clifford Montgomery, Columbia's slippery field general and Ed Danowski, Fordham's powerful halfback, are assured plenty of votes from this sector when the ballots begin drifting in.

Do Everything Well

Both are triple threaters doing practically all the kicking and passing for their respective elevens and carrying the ball for prodigious distances. Either is a scoring threat every time he handles the pigskin.

Montgomery, the smaller of the two metropolitan aces, possibly is the most elusive runner on eastern gridirons. Once in the clear he is a will o' the wisp, darting about like a swallow and evading swarms of tacklers.

The Lion leader gave an impressive demonstration of his value to Columbia in the recent game with Virginia when, with his team trailing 6 to 0 in the second half, he cut loose with a series of solo flights down the field to score twice and set the ball up near for a field goal after a 60 yard run. The final count was 15 to 6.

A Battering Ram

Danowski is of a different type but equally effective. The Rams' big captain, he towers six feet, two inches, is a crushing battering ball carrier, surprisingly fast for a man his size. He scored Fordham's two touchdowns in each of its two opening games.

Cliff Montgomery of Columbia (above) and Big Ed Danowski of Fordham loom as the east's outstanding backs this season. Both are triple-threat stars, dangerous every second of a game.

With the Rams scheduled to face such strong inter-sectional opponents as St. Mary's, Alabama and Oregon State this year, Danowski will have an opportunity to crash the national spotlight. Columbia however, playing strictly an eastern schedule, affords Montgomery slight means of impressing the bulk of the country's critics.

Amendment Would Give Home Rule To Counties

Proposal Before Voters Would Aid Efficiency and Economy, Supporters Declare.

By The Associated Press

[illegible] O., Oct. 26—Adoption [illegible] home rule amendment which Ohio voters will [illegible] would allow each of [illegible] of the state to [illegible] form of organization [illegible] with popular ap-

[illegible] proponents of the [illegible] advance "economy" in [illegible] support, opponents [illegible] denial of the right [illegible] to local com- [illegible] contend it would per- [illegible] of many more of-

[illegible] mark their ballots [illegible] or "no".

[illegible] information will confront [illegible] booths:

[illegible] amendment proposes to [illegible] the organization and [illegible] of counties. It authorizes [illegible] to frame, adopt or amend a charter and retain an [illegible] form of government; permits the legislature to enact [illegible] of government subject to adoption [illegible] the elections in any county; provides for the transfer of [illegible] of townships and municipalities [illegible] the county, or for the withdrawal of such powers, by a vote of the people concerned; permits the adoption of a charter giving the county concurrent or exclusive municipal powers or making the county a consolidated municipality; provides for the choosing of a charter commission by popular vote and for the framing of a charter by such commission.

Opposing Arguments

The official arguments against the proposed amendment, a dozen of them, include charges that under it municipalities and townships could be annexed without their consent, losing political, historic and governmental identity; it would permit the levying of different rates of taxation within the [illegible] because of centralization of government, rather [illegible] taxes and would [illegible] a few powerful centra[illegible] of- [illegible] with an army of subordinates, [illegible] and appointees.

Further they say rights and property would be transferred from [illegible] to a larger community over which they would have no control and would permit [illegible] of 88 separate forms of county government in the state.

They present their objections under a list of possibilities that "will [illegible] take place" and the listing [illegible] from Charles P. Taft, one of the proponents, a blast that they were beyond their constitutional rights in their official arguments.

Those supporting the amendment say the opposition comes chiefly from political jobholders who fear they would lose their posts under a reorganization. Proponents point to the fact that the amendment holds no compulsion.

Century Old System

The present county government system is basically the same as it was in 1533, they contend, although county activities have undergone vast changes in a century. With five major functions to perform counties have from 15 to 20 separate offices, boards and commissions, the proponents claim, and wasteful duplication, overlapping of duties, ineffective financial control and slipshod administration result.

Adoption of the amendment, they say, would allow setting up a more economical type of county government, permitting counties by popular vote to establish their own plan. Poor relief, for instance, could be transferred to a unified county administration were law, its supporters point out.

Besides Taft, those who submitted an official argument favoring it are Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, and Mrs. N. M. Stanley of Dayton. In the ranks of the opponents are Joe R. Thomas, president of the Ohio Association of Township Trustees and clerks, of Hayesville; Dale Wolf, president of the Ohio Home Rule League, of Norwood, and S. A. Decker of Barberton.

The amendment won its place on the ballot only after a court fight determined it had a sufficiency of petition signatures.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE SHOULD ALWAYS BE A LIQUID

(Let a specialist tell you why)

Doctors urge the use of a liquid laxative for children; preferably one with senna. A liquid laxative can be regulated as to dose. The natural laxative action of senna does not weaken the bowels.

Druggists report increasing sales of liquid laxatives. Mothers are rapidly discovering the advantage of the liquid form. Thousands of cases of ill-health—and half-health—in children are being cleared-up by stopping all use of laxatives of adult strength.

Parents, Take Notice!

Did you know a laxative that works just right for you, can work havoc with a child?

That the laxative habit can be contracted at the age of six?

You wouldn't give your children a powerful headache powder! You shouldn't give them a violent cathartic.

The Laxative Habit can be Avoided!

The preparation most favored for child use is California Syrup of Figs. It is a fruity syrup with the right amount of senna for gentle stimulation of a child's bowels. It gives the right kind of help.

If the bowels aren't moving regularly and thoroughly, don't give any medicine that drains the system dry. Give a liquid senna preparation like California Syrup of Figs. A little every day, and reduce the dose each day. At the end of one week stop. You'll be surprised how long it will be before the bowels need any further help. Parents, be warned.

Be sure you get the real California Syrup of Figs, with "California" on the label. If you get the right preparation, and use it the right way, you can absolutely end all worry over constant sluggish spells, bilious attacks, constipation.

All druggists keep California Syrup of Figs, ready for use. It is highly recommended for regulating children, and to undo the mischief done by habit-forming laxatives.

Homemaker's Question Box

Question—What is the best method to use in broiling steaks?

Answer—Roasting is the method of cooking large, chunky, tender cuts of meat, while broiling or pan broiling is used for relatively thin cuts. Steaks for broiling should not be cut less than 1 inch in thickness; 1½ to 2 inches is better. Chops are usually cut about ¾ to 1½ inches in thickness.

To broil is to cook by direct heat from hot coals or a gas or an electric current. To pan broil is to cook in a hot, uncovered skillet, pouring of the fat as it collects.

The time required for broiling depends upon the thickness of the cut, the degree of doneness to which it is to be cooked, and the oven temperature, says the specialist in nutrition of the Ohio State University. The steaks and chops generally are better when not cooked to the well-done stage. Since we know that searing does not retain the juices, it is not necessary to sear at the beginning of broiling. One turning gives more uniform results and less attention is required. Preheat the broiler for about 25 minutes. Place broiler rack about 3½ inches from the heating unit so that the steak will be browned in about one-half the cooking time. For steaks 2 inches thick allow about 30 minutes for broiling.

Stop Bad Breath

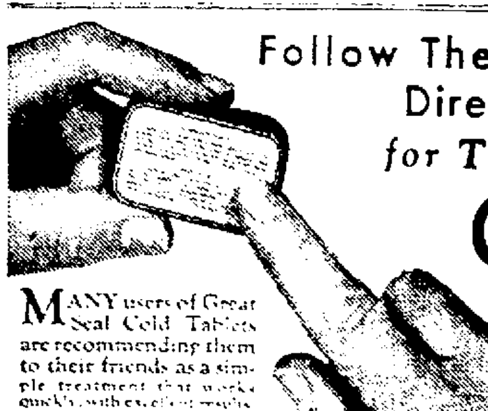
Thousands of people afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets brings no griping pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c.—Adv.



Follow These Simple Directions for Treating a COLD

"I want my husband to admire my skin"

A WIFE never forgets that a clear skin is irresistible and that some other woman might prove more attractive.

How can she have a clear skin, too?

There is one way which many have found efficient . . . by restoring deficient red-cells and hemo-glo-bin (skin and tissue purifier) to the blood.

The right amount of hemo-glo-bin in the blood makes a vast difference in the way you feel and look.

S.S.S. Tonic has the special property of increasing the red-cells and restoring deficient hemo-glo-bin to the blood.

Tens of thousands yearly take a course of S.S.S. to pep up a lagging appetite, regain old-time vigor, restore color to the skin and to build resistance to infectious diseases, pimples and boils.

Try S.S.S. yourself. You will be happy with the beneficial results obtained. At all drug stores. The larger size is more economical.

S.S.S. builds sturdy health

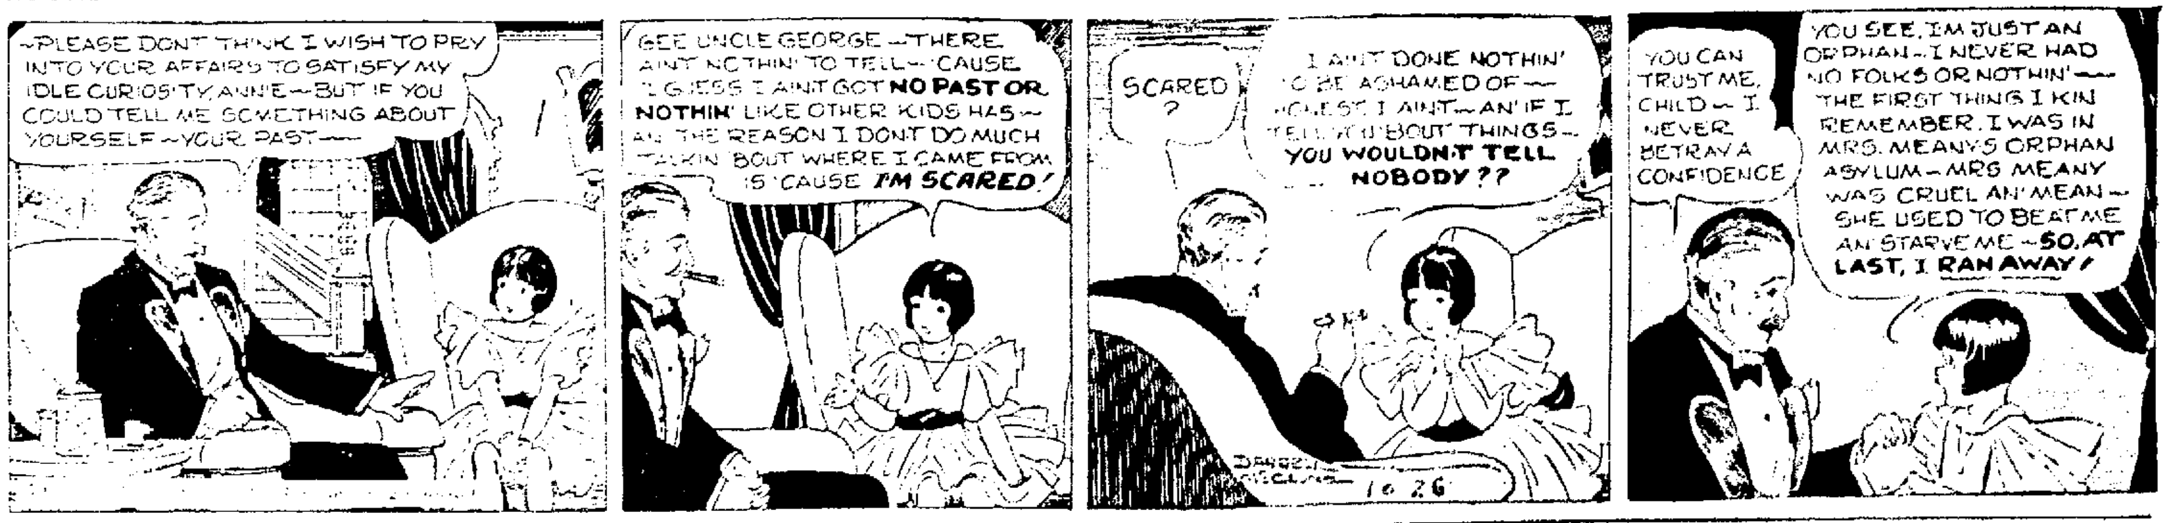
ANNIE ROONEY

BY DARREL McCLURE



PLEASE DON'T THINK I WISH TO PRY INTO YOUR AFFAIRS TO SATISFY MY IDLE CURIOSITY, ANNIE— BUT IF YOU COULD TELL ME SOMETHING ABOUT YOURSELF — YOUR PAST—
GEE UNCLE GEORGE — THERE AIN'T NOTHIN' TO TELL— 'CAUSE I GUESS I AIN'T GOT NO PAST OR NOTHIN' LIKE OTHER KIDS HAS — AN' THE REASON I DON'T DO MUCH TALKIN' BOUT WHERE I CAME FROM IS 'CAUSE I'M SCARED!
SCARED?
I AIN'T DONE NOTHIN' TO BE ASHAMED OF — HONEST I AIN'T — AN' IF I TELL YOU 'BOUT THINGS — YOU WOULDN'T TELL NOBODY??
YOU CAN TRUST ME, CHILD — I NEVER BETRAY A CONFIDENCE
YOU SEE, I'M JUST AN ORPHAN — I NEVER HAD NO FOLKS OR NOTHIN' — THE FIRST THING I KIN REMEMBER, I WAS IN MRS. MEANY'S ORPHAN ASYLUM — MRS MEANY WAS CRUEL AN' MEAN — SHE USED TO BEAT ME AN' STARVE ME — SO, AT LAST, I RAN AWAY!

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

Needle in Tissues of Body.

A RECENT NEWSPAPER story told of a man of 80 years of age who, when a boy of 13, came into violent contact with a needle. The needle was not removed at the time. According to the story sixty-seven years later the needle was seen emerging from the man's big toe.

Of course, I do not wish to doubt this story. It may well be, however, that the needle recovered from the big toe was not the same needle that entered the young boy's hand.

It is true that foreign bodies, like bullets, pins and needles, may move about in the body. But their range of movement is limited and probably never to the extent believed by most people.

Great excitement occurs when a needle is lost in the tissues of a member of the family. This makes it more difficult to remove the foreign body. Too often the victim squeezes and pushes the affected part in the hope that the needle will come out. This results in driving it in still deeper.

The best thing to do when this accident occurs is to keep calm and hold the injured part as quietly as possible. This prevents the needle from entering into deeper tissues and from breaking. Bear in mind that only a slight movement of the muscles may drive the needle so deeply into the tissues that removal is almost impossible.

A physician should be called immediately. If the needle is visible he will get it. If its position cannot be determined otherwise, the location can be localized by an X-ray examination. If necessary an incision is made and the needle removed.

All surgeons agree that search for a needle that has entered the body within a comparatively short time is not an easy task. It is made difficult because contraction of the muscles changes the position of the needle. For this reason a search in one particular area may be unsuccessful.

There are several methods of visualizing the needle other than the use of the X-ray machine. Concentrated light or a magnet which is attracted to iron and steel objects may determine the position of the needle. The needle of a compass may be directed by the buried article.

Of course the safest plan is to take the necessary precautions against needle accidents. When you sew, keep track of the needle, and do not use it except in a light room. When the needle is not in use make sure it is threaded. This will help you to find it when needed. Use a thimble when you sew, and when at a sewing machine keep the fingers well guarded from the needle.

Negligence is responsible for many of our troubles. Awkward use of the needle may result in damage.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

F.F. Q.—What causes dark circles under the eyes?

A.—This may be due to lack of rest, worry or constipation. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for further particulars and repeat your question.

WHEAT MOVES IN DOWNTREND

Intermittent Selling Pressure Results in Three Cent Slump at Chicago.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 26—About 3 cents a bushel downturn in the Chicago wheat market today resulted from intermittent selling pressure that was ascribed largely to yesterday's buyers.

An advance of 18 cents in the United States official quotation on gold was apparently not enough to [illegible] wheat or other cereals. A noticeable [illegible] stimulate any aggressive buying of [illegible] disposition in various quarters was shown to realize profits on holdings.

Enlarged shipments of wheat from Russia attracted considerable attention as a bearish factor. The Russian total for this week was 1,824,000 bushels, compared with 560,000 a week previous. All shipments of wheat from the Black Sea region this week were 2,680,000 bushels, against 362,000 a year ago.

The government corn loan plan, which contemplates 50 cents for No. 2 grades, Chicago basis, had some stimulating effect on December corn contracts, the only ones that were quoted below the loan basis. Easterners bought some wheat during dips in values, but backed away on upturns. Much less attention was given to the United States gold price today than was the case yesterday.

Provisions reflected upturns of hog values.

MIMES' PLAY ON PROGRAM TONIGHT

Columbus Party Coming To See Fred Warner in Leading Role.

A party of Columbus friends of Attorney Fred W. Warner, including, it is understood, a supreme court judge will be in the audience tonight for the opening performance of the Marion Mimes' production of Maxwell Anderson's Pulitzer prize play "Both Your Houses."

Mr. Warner will play the star role of "Solomon Fitzmaurice," veteran congressman. Others in the cast are Russell Wilhelm, Alfred Donithen, Lewis M. Francis, Mrs. Jay Vaughan, Robert Urcapher, Clyde Morrison, Jay Vaughan, Homer Cleary, Robert Smith, Rodney B. Hume, Mrs. Merle Hamilton, Mrs. Wilfred Schaffner, Norbert Hannegan, Asa Queen and Oliver Hamilton.

Mrs. Rodney B. Hume who has been a member of the Mimes since its organization, is responsible for the directing.

Tickets will be on sale at the boxoffice. The play will be given again on Friday night. Both performances will begin at 8:15.

JUDGE BLAMED

Responsibility for the lynching of George Armwood, a Negro, at Princess Anne, Md., was placed upon Judge Robert F. Duer (above) and State's Attorney John B. Robins by Gov. Albert C. Ritchie. Armwood was killed by an infuriated mob after the judge had assured the governor he would be safe. (Associated Press Photo)

PROHIBITION PLAY ON PROGRAM HERE

Will Be Presented Tonight by United Dry Forces of Marion County.

No admission will be charged for "The Aftermath," the comedy drama-debate to be presented tonight at Central Junior High school under sponsorship of the United Dry Forces of Marion county, it is announced.

While not created for entertainment purposes alone, the play is fascinating as presented by the authors, H. B. Hall and Judge M. C. Summers of California. Its theme is an indictment of the organized liquor interests of all time, according to the sponsors. The story centers around an automobile accident in which the drunken driver is killed and in which a girl also figures. The scene takes place in the office of a judge and the time in 1934.

The play carries an appeal to the audience whether the listener is wet, dry or neutral, its sponsors declare.

The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Wool Market.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Oct. 26—Trading in wool on the Boston market is practically at a standstill and there is almost a total absence of demand for sizeable quantities of wool. The lack of trading does not appear to be having any depressing effect upon quoted prices. The heavy buying in September served to cover to a large extent, the current mill requirements. In view of the situation among manufacturers, members of the Boston wool trade are not making attempts to stimulate sales.

BOMB WRECKS HOME OF CUBAN OFFICIAL

Nationalist Leader and Family Escape Injury; Havana in Wild Disorder.

By The Associated Press

HAVANA, Oct. 26—An attempt was made early today on the life of Carlos Mendieta, veteran nationalist leader, when his home was bombed.

Mrs. Mendieta narrowly escaped injury when the balcony on which she had been standing, but a few minutes earlier, was ripped away by the explosion.

Mendieta said he had "no idea" who was responsible for the attempt on his life.

The explosion which occurred about 1:30 a. m. shattered windows of his bedroom and tore away the front of his home, but Mendieta, Mrs. Mendieta and their daughter, escaped injury.

The bombing followed hours of wild disorders in parts of the city. During the last two days police have arrested 450 persons, mostly communists in an effort to stem the trouble.

Outside the capital, the situation also was acute—especially in Matanzas province where the American manager, C. M. Jervis, was held prisoner by workers who were reported to have set up a "Soviet regime."

MINE OPERATORS ORDERED TO REPORT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26—Leading operators of the "captive" coal mines of Pennsylvania have been asked by President Roosevelt to come here on Monday and report on his order for settling labor difficulties.

Mr. Roosevelt has made no secret of his impatience over the long drawn out negotiations between the operators and miners in the "captive" mines for a working agreement.

"Captive mines" are those owned and operated by big steel and other industrial concerns, and which do not sell their output on the open market.

RELIEF WORK PAY BOOSTED

Hourly Wage for Workers To Be 40 Cents; Investigator Employed.

The hourly wage rate for city relief workers has been raised from 35 to 40 cents an hour, the same rate paid by the county commissioners for maintenance work, John Abel, county relief director, said today.

These payments are not made in cash, he said, but from the basis on which the amount of the grocery orders for relief are figured. The men will not have to work more than six hours in a week, Abel said, nor will they be required to work more than the amount of the grocery order they receive, excluding fuel and clothing, for which they do not have to work. The increase will affect about 700 men who are physically able to work for their relief.

Addition of an investigator to the relief staff also was announced by Abel. The new investigator is H. R. Waters of Girard avenue who started work today. This is the first of several additions which will be made, Abel said, in compliance with a government census being taken of families on relief lists. The only applicants who will be considered for these posts, he said, must be either college graduates or must have at least three continuous years of experience in a recognized relief agency. The salaries for the new workers have not been set, Abel said.

Distribution of 11,600 pounds of salt pork was started this morning from the Davids street school building, present relief headquarters. A portion of the pork, about 20 per cent, will be turned over to the township trustees and the remainder given out in the city, Abel said.

Abel will meet tonight with all township trustees in the LaRue school for a discussion and explanation of the county relief setup. This afternoon he conferred with the county commissioners about the plan. Capt. John Rea and a Mr. Thomas, field representatives of the state relief commission, also were present.

Hemorrhoids

How to End Painful Piles Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulations of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the owe walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Henney & Cooper, and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery.—Adv.

SERIES OF MEETINGS PLANNED BY EAGLES

Marion, Bucyrus, Galion and Crestline Will Take Part.

Plans for an intercity series of lodge meetings for this winter was announced last night at the regular meeting of the Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. E. in the Eagles' building.

Lodges in Marion, Bucyrus, Galion and Crestline will participate in the exchange meetings, which will be held once a month, progressing from one city to another. Candidates from each lodge will be initiated as part of the program. The first meeting of this kind will be held in Bucyrus, Nov. 15.

Plans for circulating literature over the city in the interests of the old age pension also were made. Forty-four precinct chairmen, headed by V. V. Bush, were named to assist in promoting the pension, which will be voted on in the Nov. 7 election. James L. Kirby is general chairman of the lodge's pension committee.

The literature will be distributed until next Wednesday.

John Lusch, chairman of the aerie's membership committee, gave a report on a district meeting in Columbus last Sunday, at which plans for the winter activities were discussed, along with final arrangements for stimulating support for the pension.

MINISTER ADDRESSES COUNTY INSTRUCTORS

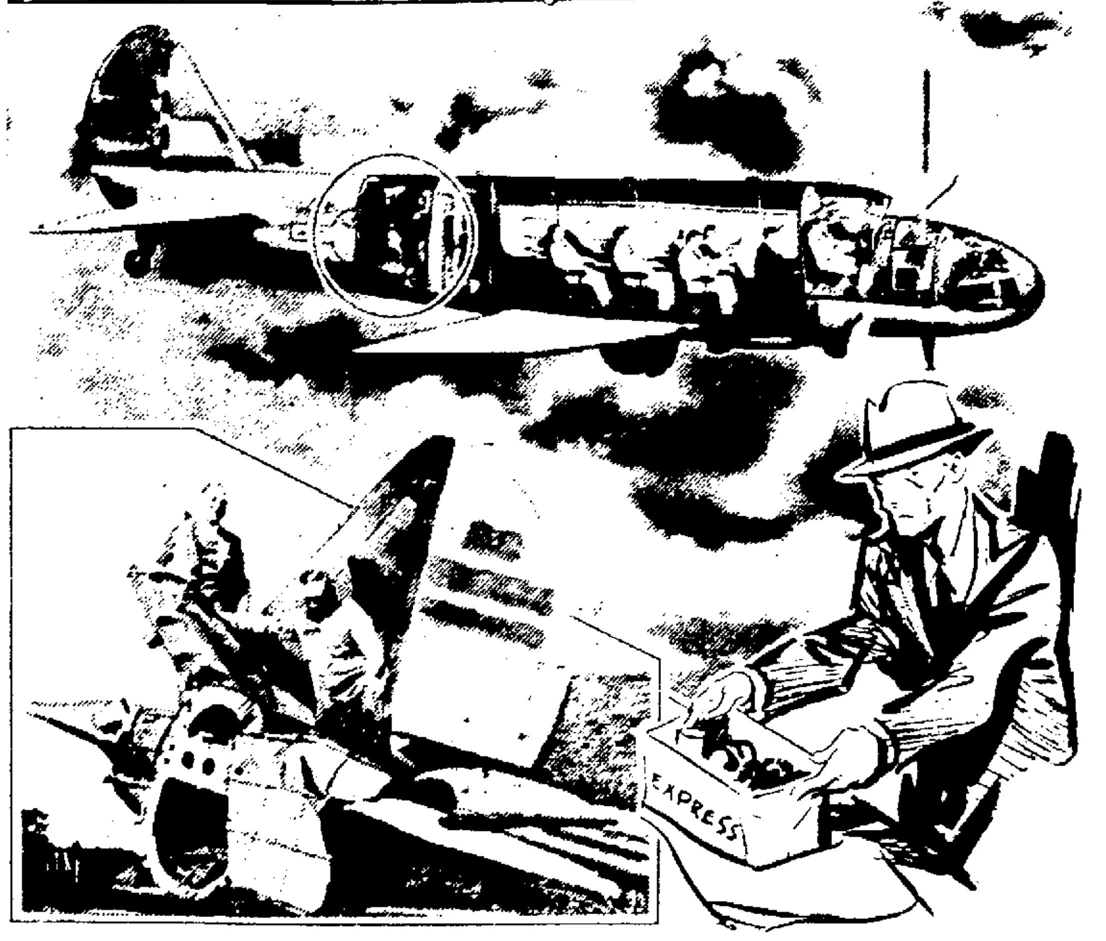
Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Oct. 26—Approximately 100 junior and senior high school teachers of Morrow county schools attended an association meeting at the Globe hotel here Wednesday night. Rev. Carl Winters, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was the principal speaker. He outlined the struggle in this country for the establishment of free schools and warned of present day efforts to undermine or abolish free schooling, stressing recommendations recently made by the national Chamber of Commerce to force high school pupils to bear at least a part of cost of their education. Urging a stronger organization of teachers to combat those opposing free education he made suggestions for the teachers to build up sentiment through the schools to further free educational opportunities.

County Superintendent of Schools H. O. Hanna and Hugh Chittenden, president of the Morrow County Teachers association, were in charge of the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Finley Herring, Henry Somers, Miss Helen Hummel and Eugene Ross, appeared on the musical program preceding Rev. Winters' address. Hugh Fuller, Delaware dramatist, entertained with a number of readings in character sketches.

HOW BOMB MAY HAVE KILLED SEVEN IN AIR



Chemical tests of bits of wreckage from the air liner which crashed mysteriously near Chesterton, Ind., lead authorities to believe that a high explosive, not difficulty with the plane, caused the disaster which killed seven persons. The tests were made in the Northwestern university scientific crime detection laboratory and chemists reported traces of nitroglycerin. The fact that the plane's tail was blown a mile from the scene of the wreck adds credence to the theory that a time bomb was cashed in the cargo space of the plane with express packages, as indicated in the top picture. The lower picture shows authorities examining the wreckage of the tail. Federal men are investigating the suggestion that the bomb was placed by a murderer who wanted to kill one of the seven in the plane, and believed a "perfect crime" could be effected by causing the disaster.

QUICK! STOP THAT COLD

IN THE DRY OR FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily goes through three stages: The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. It is twice as easy stopped in the first as in the second or third stages. In fact, to let a cold run beyond the first stage is inviting trouble.

As your doctor will tell you, there is nothing better you can take for a cold than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a "cure-all." It is internal treatment which a cold requires. It is complete in effect. It does the four things necessary.

First, it opens the bowels. Second, it combats the cold germs in the system and reduces the fever. Third, it relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Fourth, it tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack. Anything less than that is inviting trouble.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine contains nothing harmful and is absolutely safe to take. For more than forty years it has been the standard cold and grippe tablet of the world, the formula always keeping pace with Modern Medicine.

Every druggist sells Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, 30c and 50c. Only druggists more interested in making an extra profit rather than in your welfare offer you a substitute. When a cold threatens, don't wait or delay, but go right to your druggist for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Always ask for it by the full name and look for the letters L B Q on every tablet.—Adv.
